2 Seriously Hurt In Cycle Crash

Vehicle Skids In Gravel

3 Killed In Ohio Traffic

A Mansfield young woman and a Bellville man were critically injured late Sunday when their motorcycle upset on a curve on State Route 97, about a mile west of Butler. Three persons were killed in traffic accidents in Ohio during the week-end.

Miss Doris Blank, 21, of 79 Newlon place, possible skull fracture and compound fracture of the right ankle.

Dale Reed, 24, of Bellville, R. D. 2, severe abrasions of the face.

Miss Blank was reported in critical condition at noon today at Mansfield General hospital, where she is in a semi-conscious condition. Reed was reported in fair condition.

SKIDS ON GRAVEL

State highway patrolmen, who investigated the accident, said Reed lost control of the motorcycle when he struck gravel, while rounding the curve into the village. Both were thrown off the motorcycle. The accident occurred at 5:45 p. m.

Jack Poldruki, 41, a bakery driver - salesman, was killed Sunday in a three-car collision at Middleburg Heights, a Cleveland suburb.

Gordon Gourlay jr., 18, was killed in a three-car collision on Route 44 near Painesville Saturday night..

Charles Long, 18, was injured fatally Saturday when his parked truck was struck by another truck in Hamilton.

Defy Court, 12 Arrested

Pickets Linked To 'Progressives'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Twelve persons, including the state director of the Progressive party, were arrested today at the American Zinc Oxide company plant for violation of a court order prohibiting picketing.

The arrests were made by Capt. Hugh E. Leggett of the sheriff's office upon direct orders of Sheriff Ralph J. Paul; Capt. Leggett said the group starting picketing the plant's main gate at 6 a. m.

Sheriff Paul said the 12 would be, charged with contempt of court.

Common pleas judge Dana F. Reynolds banned all picketing at the plant last Thursday. It followed a long period of labor strife at the plant involving members of the Mine, Mill and Smelter workers union (CIO).

Among those arrested were: Emerson Hugh Delacy, Cleveland, state Progressive party director; Pearl Hupman, 34, Dayton, several other members of the Progressive party, the United Electrical Workers (CIO) and the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Truman Farm Funds OK'd

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Truman's request for funds to finance the administration's farm program for the 1950 fiscal year emerged virtually unscathed today from the House appropriations committee.

The committee voted $701,122,000 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, a cut of only $25,748,000 less than 4 per cent, below the amount requested by the administration.

Furthermore, the committee authorized the rural electrification administration to borrow from the treasury up to $500,000,000 for expansion of its facilities in place of the $350,000,000 requested.

Lights Go On Again In London

LONDON — (AP) — After nearly 10 years of blackout and gloom the lights have gone on again in London.

Thousands of Londoners poured into Piccadilly Circus and other gathering places Saturday and Sunday nights as the switches were thrown and neon signs and theater marquees flashed on throughout the capital.

To many Londoners the lights marked the end of postwar austerity, despite the meat ration and other shortages that still exist in Britain.

Producers To Consider Price Cut

Meet Tuesday Night On Milk Reduction

Mansfielders can expect a drop in milk prices within a few days, according to Dale Dohner, manager of the North Central Ohio Cooperative Dairy Sales association.

Dohner said members of the association are expected to take action on milk prices at a meeting tomorrow night. He said it appeared certain that a price cut would be voted.

He said the cut in retail milk prices would follow the decline of producers prices in the last 30 days.

Retail milk prices were cut last week in Cleveland, Ashland, Plymouth and Shiloh. Milk prices dropped a cent a quart in Bucyrus today, the second one-cent reduction in less than three weeks.

Home delivered milk is now selling for 18 cents a quart in all these areas. Homogenized milk is 19 cents a quart.

Duke's Visit Stirs Rumors About Wally

LONDON — (INS) — The Duke of Windsor arrived in London today and announced he hopes his American - born Duchess will join him in Britain for Easter. He visited his mother, Queen Mary.

The Duke's statement raised the usual speculation on the possibility of a reconciliation between the Duchess and the Royal family. The former Wallis Warfield Simpson has never been received by the Royal family since her marriage to the Duke.

Queen Mary, now 82 years old, is known to be sentimentally inclined toward Windsor and is unpredictable as well. Although she once opposed the marriage, close friends say she has mellowed in recent years.

One long-standing block to the Duchess' reception has been the Duke's insistence that she be treated as a Royal Duchess, a position to which she is not entitled unless so created by the King.

The Duchess is expected to arrive in about a week and go directly to Sunningdale castle where, during her last visit, she was robbed of $80,000 in jewelry.

Rare Violin Stolen

COLUMBUS —(INS)—Albert K. Germanson told Columbus police today that his $1,000 violin was stolen from the sidewalk as he left it for a few moments to move his car last night.

The instrument is a red Eichelmeier.

Budget Due Tuesday

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche will send his biennial budget message to the state legislature tomorrow rather than deliver it in person, he said today.

Cleveland Mayor To Talk Here

Young Dems To Hear Burke

Mayor Thomas Burke of Cleveland will make his first public address in Mansfield when he comes here April 19 to address a Jefferson day dinner of the Richland County Young Democratic club.

Plans for the annual dinner, which will serve as a campaign opener for Democratic candidates for municipal offices, were announced today by William A. Calhoun, president of the Young Democrats.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney have been invited to attend. Another guest will be Robert Levering of Mt. Vernon, who was the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 17th district last fall.

Mayor Burke has been mentioned frequently as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1950 if Gov. Frank J. Lausche decides to run for the U. S. Senate.

EXPECT 400

The Jefferson dinner will be held at the Richland Recreation center at 6:30 p. m. More than 400 persons are expected to attend.

Tickets for the dinner, which will sell at $2 per plate, may be purchased at the county engineer's office or at the clerk of court's office in the court house.

Calhoun said the Young Democratic club also is sponsoring a "Know Your Candidates" day on April 9 at Democratic headquarters, 17½ North Main street, above the Martin Hardware company.

"Open house" will be observed at the headquarters from 2 to 5 p. m. and all Democratic candidates in the primary will be present.

The club president stated that the day had been set up so that "voters may better know the candidates for office."

Ford Cuts Its Prices

DETROIT — (UP) — The Ford Motor company cut prices today from $10 to $120 on its passenger cars and trucks, the fourth automobile maker to do so in six weeks.

The price decreases were permitted by stepped-up production and a "small decrease in prices of some materials," the company said. The largest price drop—$120—was on Mercury convertible models, cut from $2,375 and $2,255.

No change was made in the price of the three lowest cost Ford models, the Ford six business coupe, Tudor and Fordor. Other Ford models received price cuts ranging from $12 to $30.

Mercury models were reduced from $80 to $120 on various models, while all Lincoln and Lincoln Cosmopolitan price tags were knocked down an even $100.

Ford trucks were cut from $10 to $40. Tractor prices remained unchanged.

Lucas Hints Special Call

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas said today he may ask President Truman to call a special session of Congress late this summer unless legislators speed up work on important legislation.

"There is no question that the Senate is behind in its legislative program," Lucas said.

A speed-up is needed at once if the Congressional "streamlining" act provision for summer adjournment by July 31 is to be met, he said.

ROBBED DURING FUNERAL

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Two self-styled "gentlemen crooks" bound and gagged four women and a girl in a $10,000 jewelry and fur robbery at the home of Isidore Ludwin while members of his family were attending his funeral services.

2,000-Ton Machine Goes Overseas

Big Mt. Gilead-Made Press Aids France

MT. GILEAD — A 2,000-ton hydraulic press made in Mt. Gilead will help France's postwar industrial recovery.

The huge double-action press is one of the largest ever made by the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing company and the largest piece of equipment the firm has ever shipped overseas. The press now is en route to France.

The monster machine is capable of drawing sheet metal parts to a depth of 24 inches with dies up to 72 inches square. Total weight of the press is 373,000 pounds and, when installed it will have a tower 29 feet in the air. It requires a 10-foot-deep pit below the floor level and officials expect it will require three or four weeks to install.

The French destination was clothed in secrecy. Officials here said normally a crew of six men could install the press. The installation is dependent upon the erection of the cylinder.

In addition to the punch-carrying slide of 2,000 tons capacity the press is equipped with a 600-ton hydraulic blankholder and a 400-ton hydraulic die cushion in the press bed.

The main slide is actuated by a double-acting compound ram (with an internal booster ram), providing two selective forward areas for medium and high pressure work, either in sequence or independently.

The shipment was made in sections and the press will not be assembled until it arrives in France. Hydraulic officials tested the completed press before dismantling it for shipment overseas, via an eastern seaport.

SAFE LOOTED OF $2,000

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A safe at the Broad Olympic bowling alleys was looted of $2,000 by burglars early Sunday.

Spring's Still Elusive

Mansfielders looked wistfully at new spring outfits, then donned winter clothing to go to work this morning as frost covered the area, and temperatures again were below the freezing mark.

After reaching a high of 45 yesterday afternoon, temperatures dropped to 25 at 6 a. m. today.

However, by noon today temperatures had risen to 45 and a warm sun seemed to promise elusive spring was just around the corner.

The weatherman said temperatures were expected to rise above the 50-degree mark today and drop below freezing again tonight. The forecast is fair and rather cool tonight with scattered light frost. Tuesday will be fair and somewhat warmer with a slightly rising trend predicted for Wednesday.

According to the weather bureau, Ohio is in the midst of a sluggish, high pressure system which is moving very slowly in an easterly direction. The forecaster said the clear skies which prevailed today, from Chicago to the east coast, are a phenomenon which occurs infrequently during the year.

'Prom King' Trial Opens

Youth Charged With Slayings

BRYAN — (UP) — Ervin Arthur (Bud) Ingle, 15-year-old "prom king," went on trial for first degree murder today in connection with the slaying of an elderly couple here last May 5.

Ingle is accused of shooting to death John Gabriel, 63, a mail clerk for the New York Central railroad, and his wife, Pearl, 56, so he could steal their car to go to a junior high school dance where he was to reign as "king."

Ingle, who has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, will be tried by a three-judge court. He waived his right to trial by jury. The case will be heard by Judge Russell Maxwell of Williams county, Ferd G. Behrens of Henry county, and Earl K. Solether of Wood county.

Fifty-one witnesses have been subpoenaed for the trial. The prosecution has summoned 36 persons to testify and 15 persons are scheduled to appear for the defense.

C. L. Newcomer, Bryan attorney and former common pleas judge, will serve as special prosecuting attorney. The court appointed Lorin L. Hogue, Bryan, as defense attorney.

Ingle has been given sanity tests at the bureau of juvenile research and at the Lima State hospital. Doctors at the latter institution reported the boy "normal" and with no trace of mental illness.

ACTRESS ILL

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Screen Star Olivia De Havilland, who expects her first baby in August, was reported seriously ill today.

Senior, Madison Pupils Win Honors

Young Musicians Rate High In Tests

Mansfield and Madison township high school students covered themselves with glory Saturday at the north-central district music contest at Norwalk.

Senior high school students captured eight first and three second prizes. Madison high school students won ratings of "superior" and "excellent."

Pupils from Senior high school who were awarded first place included the senior girls' ensemble, senior boys' ensemble and junior girls' ensemble. The junior boys' ensemble won second rating. Solists receiving first place included: Gracann Fogle, Jean A. Robinson, Jean Maurer, Betty Gorsuch, and Jean Turner. Two other soloists, Clarence Mason and Doris Roach, were awarded second honors.

On April 23 these groups and soloists who won first place will go to Otterbein college, Westerville, to compete in the state finals. They were accompanied to Norwalk by A. LeMoine Derr.

In addition to the Madison girls' ensemble, calling themselves "Las Troubadores" and the boys' ensemble, which won the superior ratings, the younger girls, "The Melodines" won a rating of "excellent."

The two Madison groups who won "Superior" ratings also will go to Otterbein college April 23. Madison high pupils were accompanied to Norwalk by Miss Dorothy Whitworth, music teacher.

The contests for high school students are sponsored by the Ohio Musical Education association and are annual events.

350 Million People United To Keep Peace

WASHINGTON —(INS)—The United States today shattered all precedents by entering into a peacetime military alliance with western European powers to halt Soviet aggression.

Secretary of State Acheson and the foreign ministers of 11 other anti-Communist powers will sign this afternoon the North Atlantic pact combining their military might in the hope of preventing a new war.

The treaty, which still must be ratified by the U. S. Senate and the legislative branches of the seven charter members, pledges each and every signatory to regard an armed attack against any of its number an attack against itself.

When ratified and implemented, the pact binds together 350 million people of the western world to preserve the peace.

The charter members are the United States, France, Britain, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Other nations signing are Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and Italy.

History Recorded

By MARTHA KEARNEY

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A slim document which may change the world's history will gain 12 signatures today before a bustling backdrop of kleig lights, cameras, microphones and typewriters.

The blinding lights and whirring noises of movie, television and still cameras are to bring the signing of the North Atlantic pact before the eyes of every man and woman in the world who is permitted to look.

The rows of intent newsmen huddled over telephones in the hall will murmur words which will be read everywhere in the world where the press is free.

The state department reported that history's greatest concentration of shortwave broadcasting will be used because censorship in "iron curtain" countries might otherwise keep accurate news of the event from reaching the people.

The 16-year old auditorium in which the North Atlantic pact is being signed is one of a placid group of new government buildings which line wide, spacious Constitution avenue.

Today secret service men swarm over its aloof marble Grecian lobby and its usually hushed, oblong auditorium. They are charged with the protection of the men who are gathered under its roof.

President Truman will be there with Vice President Barkley, the cabinet and members of congress. The ambassadors and representatives of all the signatory countries will appear along with any other diplomats who want to attend.

As the ceremonies begin, each of the 11-foreign ministers and secretary of state Dean Acheson will make a short speech. Then President Truman will make an address.

Next, the foreign ministers will sign their names to the pact in the alphabetical order in which the names of their nations appear in English.

The ceremony is expected to start at 3 p. m. and take less than two hours.

Signing of the historic treaty will be the greatest international event to take place in Washington and marks the first time the United States has entered into such an alliance in its 173-year history.

Probably the simplest document in recent diplomatic history, the treaty binds all parties to:

1. Work together for their economic good.

2. Pool their resources of men and material so that the full weight of the arms can be thrown quickly and effectively against any aggressor.

3. Set up a council to carry out these preparations through a series of committees, the first of which is one to prepare defense plans.

The pact, which runs for 20 years, still leaves Congress the constitutional right to declare actual war.

President Truman, Secretary Acheson and the foreign ministers will speak briefly at the colorful ceremonies in the gold and blue departmental auditorium.

Mr. Truman and Acheson are expected to again tell protesting Russia that the pact is well within the United Nations charter and is aimed at maintaining peace and not promoting war.

Russia officially protested against the treaty on the eve of today's signing but the Soviet charges that the pact is an instrument of aggression were rejected. Russian protests went to Norway and Denmark, today.

While not written into the pact, it is universally assumed that the United States will resume its wartime role as the arsenal of democracy by supplying the armies of Europe with the necessary equipment to "hold the line" in event of an armed attack.

This will be provided for in legislation to be submitted to Congress at about the time the treaty is given the Senate for ratification. It will cost the United States in the vicinity of one billion 500 million dollars in the first year.

U. N. to Get Hot Issues

NEW YORK — (AP) — The carry-over session of the United Nations general assembly which opens tomorrow is shaping up as a full-fledged meeting of the 58-nation forum.

Originally scheduled to deal only with items left unfinished at the recent Paris assembly, it now promises to have on its agenda several new and controversial items.

In recent weeks the following developments took place:

Boliva requested the assembly to take up the case of the imprisoned Hungarian prelate, Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Australia said it would seek a full airing of the case of 15 Bulgarian Protestant clergymen imprisoned by that communist government.

India and Australia demanded that the Indonesian case, now before the 11-nation security council, also be put on the assembly agenda.

During the session which opens at Flushing Meadow at 3 p. m. (EST) tomorrow certain delegates may comment on two other vital international developments — the North Atlantic treaty and the Berlin crisis.

The Mindszenty case, the case of the Bulgarian clerics, and Indonesia will go before a 14, nation steering committee on Wednesday at 11 a. m.

COMPOSER DIES

LONDON — (AP) — Dr. Basil Harwood, 89, composer and organist, died yesterday.

Syria Joins Truce Talk

RHODES — (UP) — Syria lined up behind Trans-Jordan today to negotiate an armistice with Israel in the Palestine war.

Trans-Jordan signed an armistice agreement with Israel here yesterday. It froze most existing lines in east and southeast Palestine and left Trans-Jordan's Arab legion in occupation of a larger chunk of the Holy Land than any other Arab nation.

Col. Husni Al-Zaim, who heads the supreme military council which took over Syria in a bloodless coup last Thursday, sent word to United Nations officials that he will abide by the ousted government's agreement to negotiate with Israel.

DAYTON — (AP) — A study of techniques of the Dayton police force is being made by six high ranking German police officials who arrived here yesterday. They came to the United States on a cultural exchange tour arranged by the office of military government.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Bob Feller, Early Wynn Blank Pittsburgh, 3-0

Indians Open Long Series With Giants

EL PASO, Tex.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians take to the road today with their spring pals, the New York Giants, on a cross-country excursion.

The first stop to be made by the two clubs was to be at El Paso, Tex., today where Bob Lemon was scheduled to pitch for the Tribe. Lemon, who won 20 games for the Indians in 1948, is slated to go the full nine innings.

So far this spring, Gene Bearden has been the only hurler to go the full route for the Redskins. He pitched nine frames in defeating the University of Southern California.

The world champions ended their stay at Tucson, Ariz., yesterday with an impressive 3-0 victory over the Pirates.

BOBBY GOES SIX

Bob Feller for the first time this year looked impressive on the hill as he held the Pirates to three hits in the six innings he pitched. Early Wynn blanked the Smoky City hitters for the remaining three cantos.

Only last week Manager Lou Boudreau said that Feller was one of his two big disappointments of the spring season. Sam Zoldak was the other.

After a first-inning double by Johnny Hopp, the fireballer retired the next 10 men in order, three of them on strikes.

Feller was in trouble once, however, in the fifth. The leadoff batter, Wally Westlake, blasted a triple against the center field wall with the Indians leading, 1-0.

The next hitter, Jack Tobin, grounded out. Jack Cassini then walked, but Feller forced Dixie Walker to hit into a double play, retiring the side.

Wynn finished the game, allowing one hit in his three inning stint. The first batter to face him doubled, but Wynn retired the next eight in order. The Pirates couldn't get the ball out of the infield in the eighth and ninth.

THREE ARE OUT

The Indians have only seven of their staff of 10 pitchers available. Steve Gromek is in Detroit attending the funeral of a brother-in-law, Gene Bearden is incapacitated with a pulled leg muscle, and Don Black isn't strong enough as yet.

Bearden should be ready in four or five days and Gromek will rejoin the squad in Texas sometime this week. Black, who nearly died of a cerebral hemorrhage last fall, is not expected to pitch for some time.

Big Nine Grid Drills Begin With 900 Out

CHICAGO (AP) — The western conference's annual spring football drills—a 35-day conditioning session — opened in full today with upwards of 900 players answering the call.

Defending champion Michigan has the biggest squad — 175 reported for workouts March 28 to give the wolverines a head start.

Regarded as the potential champion and Rose Bowl representative is Minnesota with 30 returning lettermen, including 10 regulars.

Michigan has been weakened at key spots through graduation and its chances of capturing a third straight big nine crown are conjectural.

Northwestern, last season's runner-up and Rose Bowl champion, has another strong club geared with holdovers.

The Ohio State university football team moves outdoors today for its first spring football practice. Headed by captain Jack Wilson, the 100 gridders will work out six days a week until May 14 when they will line up against each other for the annual intra-squad battle.

Blackboard lectures and movies of last season's games kept the footballers busy last week.

Officials Fete Slated Today

Some 60 football and basketball referees are expected to attend the annual banquet of the North-Central Ohio Officials association at 7:30 tonight at the Creamer hotel.

H. W. Emswiler, Ohio high school athletic commissioner will be the principal speaker of the affair and will be introduced by N-J sports editor Fred Tharp who will serve as toastmaster.

Officers will be elected for next year. Tony Grant is president, Jack Robeson, vice-president and Jimmy Lymper secretary-treasurer.

Gorman-Rupp Gets League Franchise

Meeting of the Ohio Inter-City softball league set for Akron yesterday was called off because some of the teams were not ready yet to set up a league schedule.

However, Mansfield's Gorman-Tupp nine has been granted a franchise and will play in the loop this summer. In the western division along with the local team will be Canton, Akron, Orrville, Lakewood and Ashland.

Boxers Go Today

BOSTON — (AP) — A star-studded field of 190 battlers, representing 26 states, the District of Columbia and far-away Hawaii, weigh in for the three-day National AAU boxing championship tournament today at the Boston garden.

Michigan Net Star Winner

CHICAGO — (AP) — In a possible preview of the forthcoming Western Conference Tennis championships, Michigan's Andy Paton defeated Northwestern's Grant Golden for the Western Indoor Tennis title last night.

Paton, defending big nine champion, displayed a deadly volley to down Golden 6-4, 6-4, 9-7.

Paton and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won the doubles crown by beating Len Brose of Detroit and Jack Sunderland of Kalamazoo, Mich., college 6-2, 6-2.

Newman Basketball 5 Honored With Banquet

The Newman basketball team winner of the Mansfield grade school championship, was honored at a chicken-dinner banquet yesterday at the school cafeteria.

Miss Frances Wolfe, Purple and Gold coach, was host for the affair which ended with a theater party. Mrs. Phillip Lodge served the meal.

Slates Exhibition

TOLEDO — (INS) — Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, who will meet Jersey Joe Walcott for the heavyweight boxing title in June, will stage a four-round exhibition fight against Pittsburgh's Jackie Lyons in Toledo April 25.

Newark Wins Pin Crown In Central Ohio League

Newark Housing corporation swept three straight games from Palace Recreation, Coshocton, yesterday to win the Women's Central Ohio Travelling league championship.

Newark had held a one-game lead over Mt. Vernon going into the final session and the Mt. Vernon team was able to win only two games. Mansfield dropped two of three games to Ashland to finish in fourth place.

Scores throughout the league were unusually low yesterday as not a single competitor went over 500. Tops for the league was a 493 by Mansfield's Billie Cleckner. Ivaloo Watson of Delaware and Frances Becker of Mt. Vernon had 491.

The circuit will round out activity by bowling match games for a jackpot the next two Sundays, high three-game total to count.

Marion won first place in the Lions club district bowling tournament held yesterday at Richland Recreation. Eighteen teams competed with the winners rolling 2912. They will go to Columbus to the State tournament along with runner-up Sandusky which rolled 2886.

The two Mansfield teams in the tourney had 2741 and 2703.

Henry Kathrein led Sons of Herman league bowlers with 590 yesterday but missed his chance for an honor roll score when he tossed a 160 final game. He had openers of 209 and 221.

Emmett McIntire was runner-up with 565, Jake Streitmater had 525; Jake Urschel, 521; N. Bosh, 510; and Jim Kurek, 510. Dave Moysi had a 203 single game but only after other scores of 135 and 130.

Bertha Young led the Daughters of Herman with 472, Lena Aston had 454, Mary McIntire turned in 447, and Ann Reister, 438.

40 Candidates Turn Out For Penn Practice

Manager Lefty Deeds of the Penn Auto-Sporting Goods baseball team announced today that the club would practice at 4:30 p. m. every day this week at Blue Goose park.

Deeds called the daily practice sessions in an attempt to weed out some 40 candidates who reported for the first practice of the season yesterday.

Several other players who were regulars last year— Shortstop Kenny Funk, Second-baseman Shelly Swank and Centerfielder Jim Meeting — will join the team after their college season closes.

The Penn team won the state championship last year under the colors of the Mansfield Grays.

Holman to Help Israel Basketball

NEW YORK — (AP) — Nat Holman, basketball coach of the city college of New York, will leave tomorrow for the new state of Israel to help in the development and promotion of the cage sport.

Holman was invited by the Israeli government. He expects to spend three weeks in the country, conducting clinics for coaches, giving lectures and demonstrations.

Sox Return Bill Bevens to Yanks

PASADENA, Cal. — (INS) — Not even the Chicago White Sox want Floyd "Bill" Bevens, the sore-arm righthander who gained baseball immortality on two counts—pitching a one-hitter in World Series play and losing it.

At Pasadena, White Sox general manager Frank Lane said: "We didn't like what we have seen of Bevens."

And forthwith the White Sox returned Bevens to the New York Yankees.

Television Gets Red Bird Games

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Television station WLW-C will broadcast all 77 home games of the Columbus Red Birds of the American association.

The Columbus station, owned by the Crosley Broadcasting company, announced yesterday that a contract had been signed for the telecasts. Fifty-four of the games will be at night. The first home game will be on April 19.

2 Mansfield Sport Clubs Set Tuesday

Mansfield will be treated to its first baseball game and second track meet of the season tomorrow as both Senior high and Madison have events scheduled.

The Madison baseball team will make its bow against Lexington at 4 p. m. on Blue Goose field while the Tyger thinclads go against Akron Garfield at the same time at Stadium field.

For Madison it will be a second attempt at opening the baseball season. The Rams were scheduled against Galion last Thursday but were rained out.

Ray "Dutch" Bader, Madison's only experienced pitcher, will do the hurling chores. The remainder of the lineup is expected to be composed of Gene Riblet behind the bat, Joe Distl, first base; Jim Brightbill, second base; Norm Hughes, shortstop; Larry Secrist, third base, and Jack Bosh, Ed Chelski and Fred Durig in the outfield.

The Senior high trackmen will be after their second straight victory and are expected to have a little more trouble than they had last Saturday against Columbus East. The Tygers won that one, 92-26.

Coach Harry Mehock announced today that Willie Fowler's six-foot high jump Saturday tied the all-time Tyger record set in 1931 by Bob Shay. Paul "Pinkie" Ferguson made 5-10 in the event.

Solinger Winner Of Puck Prize

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Bob Solinger, 23-year-old left wing, was named yesterday as winner of a $500 prize given by Al Sutphin, president of the Cleveland Hockey club.

The award indirectly tags Solinger as the Cleveland Barons' most valuable player in the season just ended. In the previous season Solinger was the American Hockey league's "rookie of the year."

Reds Option 'Regular' Catcher

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, getting ready to start a barnstorming trip home, may have a rebel on their hands.

The Redleg bosses announced yesterday that Ray Lamanno, first string catcher for the past two season, was being optioned to Syracuse of the international league but Lamanno indicated last night he would not report to the chiefs.

Lamanno, who lives at Oakland, Calif., said if he could not stick in the majors he wanted to be traded or optioned to a Pacific Coast league team.

The Reds, a bit embarrased over yesterday's 2 to 1 licking at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals' "B" team, will break camp here after taking on the New York Yankees today at St. Petersburg. They'll play 15 more exhibition games, however, between the time of their departure from Tampa and the opening of the regular season.

Lloyd (Citation) Merriman, Cincinnati's bonus rookie, looks more like the Reds' opening day center fielder every passing day.

Few gave Merriman a chance to make the first club when spring training started. As a "bonus player" who could not be farmed out, he was sure to stick—but not as a regular.

Manager Bucky Walters still is undecided about Merriman opening the season in center. As Bucky puts it: "He'll have to do a lot of slumping to get out of there."

A pleasant collegian who finished two of his final Stanford university exams while training at Tampa, Merriman will be starting his second full season of baseball this year.

★

Problem at First . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. — (UP) — Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cards admitted today that his first-base problem has not been solved and may remain unsettled all season.

Dyer is trying to choose between Vern (Nippy) Jones, who held the position last year, and rookie Glenn Nelson, up from Rochester where he hit .303.

The Card Skipper says he thinks Nelson, a lefthander, is better defensively but Jones, a right-hander, is a better hitter.

"I don't expect to make a choice until sometime after the season opens," said Dyer. "I will probably keep both boys all season."

★

To Test Power . . .

EL PASO, TEX. — (UP) — The New York Giants were set to test their home run power today against the world champion Cleveland Indians, whose pitching is in mid-season tune.

The Giants, trailing by one run in the last of the 10th, beat the Chicago White Sox, yesterday, 6 to 4, when Sid Gordon homered with two on.

★

Try Out Lookouts . . .

ORLANDO, FLA. — (UP) — The Washington Senators, who lost to the Philadelphia A's here yesterday, 9 to 7, were slated to clash with the Chattanooga Lookouts today at Winter Garden.

The Senators bowed to the A's as pitchers Ray Scarborough, Mickey Haefner, and Paul Clavert yielded 13 hits, 11 walks, and one wild pitch and the defense made three errors.

★

Yanks Slice Babe . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. — (AP) — Babe Young, a first baseman signed by the New York Yankees during the winter, was a free agent today. Jack Phillips and Dick Kryhoski, a couple of rookies, are battling for the first base job.

The Yanks beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, yesterday on the two-hit pitching of Joe Page and Wally Hood, but lost the spring series to the Red Birds, four games to three.

Crook Has 'Bold Look' In Stealing Plenty of Dough

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (UP) — Police were on the lookout today for a bold hotel thief who lifted $891 from rooms where five members of the Philadelphia Phillies were slumbering.

Detectives figured the robbery on Saturday night was done by an expert, judging from the way he crossed two beds to nab the wallets of two of the players. As an additional bold gesture, the thief turned on the lights as he left and dropped a quarter on the coin-operated radio.

Victims of the thief were coach George Earnshaw—$500, outfielder Richie Ashburn—$175, Powel—$130, pitcher Lou Possehl—$60, and pitcher Dick Koecher—$26.

Tommy Yarosz Battles Australian In London

LONDON — (AP) — Tommy Yarosz steps into the ring tonight and will try to prove Dave Sands just another fighter once he gets out of Australia.

Yarosz, 27-year-old, light heavyweight from Monaca, Pa., and Sands 23, from Burnt Ridge, New South Wales, meet in 10 round overweight bout at Harringay arena.

Cincy Reds Look Like Second Division Club; Too Many Personnel Problems

(By Central Press)

TAMPA, Fla. — The Cincinnati Reds are well off being bad off this year.

They are not picked as pennant contenders by any of the prognosticators and thus whatever they do in climbing upward from the second division will be a surprise. In addition they have a flock of young, talented ball players who will give the Reds a team of the future.

Manager Bucky Walters

Overly-serious Bucky Walters, starting his first full season as manager of the club, is not exactly pessimistic nor is the front-office crew including President Warren Giles.

NEED TWO GUYS

In fact, as Walters points out: "If we can get a couple of guys who can hit for us and if Blackie and VanderMeer have good years there is no telling how far this club can go."

Pitching, always the vital spot on any ball club, could be there. Biggest question mark, of course, is Ewell (Blackie) Blackwell, the elongated righthander who was the toast of baseball in 1947 and a complete washout last year.

Blackie went through a serious kidney operation last winter. Normally a 190-pounder, the 6-foot 6-inch righthander dropped to 157 pounds.

"We're not letting Blackie throw any yet," says Walters. "That's the last thing he should do. I've talked to the doctors and they say there's no reason in the world why he can't come around."

Blackie told us he feels fine and that his weight now is 175 pounds. If he should came back, and Johnny VanderMeer, the southpaw veteran who won 17 games last year, has a good season the Reds would have the best one-two pitching punch in the National league.

There are 17 pitchers on the Reds' roster

NEED FOUR OR FIVE

"What I need to do," says Walters, "is to get four or five pitchers working regular."

The starters will be VanderMeer, Ken Raffensberger, Howard Fox and Herman Wehmeier. Raffensberger, a 31-year-old lefthander, had a good season in 1948, winning 11 and losing 12.

The Reds reached into their Syracuse and Tulsa clubs for pitching talent. Six boys are being looked at with the best thus far appearing to be Harry Perkowski, a big lefthander who won 22 games for Tulsa; Frank Fanovich, another southpaw, who pitched for Syracuse and, despite a mediocre record, was picked for the all-star game, and Eddie Erautt, who won 15 for Syracuse.

Other young pitchers are Bud Lively, 15-4 with Tulsa; Jim Avrea, 10-5 with Tulsa; Millard Howell, 17-12 with Syracuse, and Moe Savransky, 18-year-old Cleveland boy who needs more experience.

Biggest problem Walters has at this stage is to find a second baseman.

He has four of them competing for the spot. They are Benny Zientara, who hit a weak .187 in 74 games last year; Jimmy Bloodworth, gray-haired veteran who hit .294 for Montreal and formerly with Washington: Bobby Adams, who just missed the .300 mark with the Reds last year, and Johnny Lane, from Tulsa.

Claude Corbitt, another weak hitter, also plays second but is being considered for the shortstop spot along with Virgil Stallcup, the highly publicized rookie shortstop of the 1948 Reds' team.

LONG STRETCH

Stallcup, who hit a mere .228 last year, will be better this year. At one stretch last season, Walters revealed, Stallcup went to bat 50 times without getting a hit.

Grady Hatton, who had a bad year at bat following a heckling session by the Cincy fans, is the third sacker and Walters has high hopes the former University of Texas athlete will get back in the groove.

At first is big Ted Kluzewski, the "Lou Gehrig" type batter who doesn't hit like the great Lou did but packs plenty of power. Kluzewski had a very respectable .275 last year.

Charles Kress, who hit .312 for Tulsa, also is a first base candidate.

Frankie Baumholtz, Hank Sauer, Johnny Wyrostek and Danny Litwhiler are the regular outfielders. Sauer, a rookie last year, belted 35 home runs and knocked in 97 to rank high in the loop in slugging.

Two former football stars, Lloyd Merriman from Stanford university and Steve Filipowicz, ex-Fordham and New York Giants' pro grid star, are seeking outfield berths. Merriman will stick for he is a bonus player. He has looked good in camp and his speed on the bases is remarkable. He stole 44 bases for Columbia in the Sally loop last season.

Little Known Facts

Trautman - Prominent Sportsman

COLUMBUS —(AP)— George McNeal Trautman is a horticulture graduate of Ohio State university.

So it is fitting that the genial redhead should be president of the world's 59 minor baseball leagues—for practically all the bush loop clubs are farms Baseball farms, that is.

Just how he got into the horticulture department at Ohio State is something "Red" won't discuss. His old college chums intimate that the horticulture course wasn't too tough, so George enrolled in that college so his studies wouldn't interfere too much with his athletic endeavors.

ATHLETIC STOPS

Trautman's athletic career went something like this: Played football and baseball at Bucyrus high; did same at Ohio State, where he was a pretty fair country pitcher; coached two years at Fostoria (baseball and football); went to Ohio State as assistant coach; rose to assistant athletic director; jumped to presidency of Columbus Red Birds, then to presidency of American association, the general manager of the Detroit Tigers, and to president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues (the minors).

At Fostoria, where he had two unbeaten years in football, his No. 1 boy was "Pete" Stinchcomb. L. W. St. John, Ohio State athletic director, wanted Stinchcomb for the Buck team and asked Trautman to send the kid to OSU.

Never one to overlook a good bet, Trautman answered.

"I won't send him, but I'm willing to bring him."

And that's how George got his job at Ohio State—first stepping stone on the long road to the top.

Along the way he learned to be a good bowler and a better-than-average golfer (he once made a hole in one). Now, his friends say, his golf and bowling scores are just about equal—around the 120 mark.

On his baseball job George has to do a lot of traveling and as a traveler he has one claim to fame. He has never departed from a hotel without leaving some of his belongings, with the result that packages are continually reaching his headquarters from all parts of his route.

He shaves himself—he knew a barber once who was also an umpire—but he shuns shaving creams and lotions of all kinds. He just lathers up with the piece of soap nearest at hand and starts shaving.

DON'T THROW HAT

If you visit him in his hotel room, there's one good way to lose his friendship. Just throw your hat on his bed and you become his enemy, for that's his only bad luck omen.

George has never lost his enthusiasm for hunting and fishing. A former chairman of Ohio's conservation commission, he has a farm down in the hills of Jackson county where he has a small, well-stocked lake.

For the last 15 years he's gone grouse hunting in Michigan with the same group of friends. With Mrs. Trautman he has a hobby—springer spaniels, fox hounds and other dogs.

As a duck hunter, Trautman's friends say he's a great game conservationalist. They explain that "he gets fewer ducks out of a box of shells than any man in Ohio."

George will take a drink on occasion—almost any occasion—and is a cigaret smoker. He fancies himself as an amateur chef, but his favorite foods are steak (well done) with macaroons and rice pudding.

He'll play cards at the drop of a hat, and is good with the pasteboards. His favorite games are bridge, gin rummy, Oklahoma and hearts, and his long-time opponent (and generally the winner) is Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league.

Trautman seldom leaves his office for lunch, but works straight through the noon hour. His annual salary, not counting a liberal expense account, is around the $30,000 mark.

Miss Helen King, who has been his secretary for some 15 years, says he earns every cent of it. Baseball men think so, too.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of Pete D Rabuck, who died April 1 1945

No one knows the silent heartache
Only those who last can tell
Of the grief we bare in silence
For those we love so well
Friends may think we have forgotten
God
When they see us smile
Little do they know our sorrow
That is but behind a smile
Words can not tell how we miss you
Since we miss your smiling face
But you are safe in Heaven
Some day safely we'll meet your place

SPRING IS HERE

This is the season of the year when so many people are looking around for a home of their choice. Please ask yourself this question? "Is our home too small for the family, or would it be to my benefit to sell my large home and purchase a smaller one." Is your answer Yes to the above question? Well, if it is why not call my office and make an appointment personally with me to discuss your real estate problem. No one is ever under any obligation to buy or sell their home unless they so desire to do so. Remember our slogan ASK THE PEOPLE WE HAVE SERVED.

Accident Leads to Adventure

New, Exciting Book For Boys At Library

By Library Staff Member

Right in front of Tommy's house the messenger boy hit a tree. That was too bad because he was carrying an important message to the mayor. Tommy said he would take the message to the Mayor. And what a series of rides and adventures he had. He rode on a bus, a milk wagon, a taxi, a fire engine, a hand car, and a basket. You'll laugh at TOMMY'S WONDERFUL RIDES and when you find out what the message was

For middle readers this week there are three new books in the "Childhood of Famous American" series. These are the orange books about real people.

JOHN MARSHALL, BOY OF YOUNG AMERICA, by Helen Monsell, is about the boy who grew up to be one of the greatest Chief Justices our country has had. His boyhood was spent a long way from courtrooms and judges, though. He lived in the woods, and lived the life of a pioneer. Boys will like the story of the time he chased a runaway man and caught a bear.

Every boy knows who DAVY CROCKETT was and wants to read about him. Aileen Parks has a new book full of the excitement and adventure of such a thrilling person.

Not so many of these books have been about women but Miriam Mason has written one about MARY MAPES DODGE, JOLLY GIRL. Girls of today will enjoy reading about her girlhood many years ago. Any one who has read "Hans Brinker", which she wrote, will want to read about the person who wrote such a good book.

Another book about real people and one intended for older children is BOOK OF AMERICANS, by Rosemary and Stephen Benet. This is a book of poems about some famous people in our past—Columbus, De Soto, Captain Kidd, James Monroe and our own Johnny Appleseed. The poems are short and often quite humorous. Charles Child has drawn some unusual pictures to go with the poems.

WINGS IN THE WOODS, by Robert McClung, is good spring reading. Dan was a boy of the woods Everything about woods life, from animals to moths, interested him. He had a butterfly collection. He had a crecop a moth—until it got loose in church and nearly broke up the service.

Sometimes, though, he chose the wrong animals for pets—like the time he tried to keep a baby skunk for a pet and its mother objected. What happened then was what made Dan run away. This is a good story—but more than that it is a guide to anyone who wants to collect moths and butterflies.

STORY PARADE STAR BOOK is a collection of stories that have appeared from time to time in "Story Parade" magazine. These are mostly modern stories for older readers. Here are some titles that sound interesting: "Battle for the Tulips', Son of the Eagle", Letters Have Stamps", "Magic at Midnight" and "Dollar-Bill Mystery".

For older boys who like their reading tough there is a new Howard Pease book, BOUND FOR SINGAPORE This is the story of Chet Hardy who thought he was a writer. However, he wanted to write stories of adventure and far-places, but the editors kept saying "Write about the things you know". So Chet got a job on a boat and found himself right in the middle of adventure and excitement.

Little Washington 4-H Club Elects

Mary Ellen Brown will head the Busy Workers 4-H club of Little Washington, it was announced today.

Other new officers of the club include Marilyn McFarland, vice president, Maxine Donough, secretary-treasurer; Janet Lutz, recreation leader; and DaLee Wachs, news reporter.

Mrs. Carl Russell is adviser for the group.

The next meeting will be held at the home of DaLee Wachs April 11.

Prof. Frank In Recital

Prof. Lawrence S. Frank, a former Mansfielder and now professor of the organ at Otterbein college, will present an organ recital Sunday, April 10, at 4 p. m. at Wooster College Memorial chapel.

An instructor of vocal music at John Simpson Junior High school from 1937 to 1942, Prof. Frank was also organist at the Park Avenue Baptist church during this period.

He was a private teacher of the organ here and was active in civic music circles.

In addition to his duties at Otterbein he serves as organist at the First English Lutheran church at Columbus.

His recital will include the works of Bach, Pierne, Purvis, Wagner, Kary Elert and Reubke.

Lausche Expected to Propose 575 Million Ohio Budget

Boost In Operating Cost Seen

Welfare Units Will Get More

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov Frank J. Lausche will deliver his biennial budget to the state legislature tonight if the printers have it ready He has definitely promised it will be not later than Tuesday.

The budget recommendations have been closely guarded as finance director H. D. Defenbacher whittled down requests to fit anticipated revenues. The recommended appropriations, however, are expected to be around $575,000,000.

Such a budget would compare with $551,373,000 appropriated by the last legislature for the two-year period ended last Dec. 31. It would be a little in excess of four times the six months budget approved at the beginning of the session to operate state functions until July 1.

The six months budget of $145,809,000 equaled the amount spent during the last six months of the previous biennium ended last Dec. 31.

MORE LATER

The new budget which will be for a two-year period commencing July 1, this year will be only for currenct operations. It will contain nothing for capital improvements which will be recommended later by the governor to be financed from current treasury surplus Much of the $71,000,000 that was appropriated for capital improvements from treasury surplus two years ago remains unspent and must be reappropriated.

The governor had indicated that he may ask the legislature to freeze part of these surplus funds in the treasury to take care of contingencies which might arise during the next two years.

It is understood the new budget will allot virtually the same amount of money for each department and function as was spent on the basis of the last six months of 1948, excepting the welfare department The expanded building program of the welfare department will require more money to operate the new facilities. Thus it is anticipated, schools, local governments and all other governmental functions will be limited to a basis of expenditures during the last six months of last year and the first six months of this year

In addition to receiving the governor's budget message if it is ready for presentation tonight, the house of representatives has two important tax levy bills on its calendar for consideration Both have been approved by the senate as emergency measures

One would permit municipalities to adopt special tax levies for operating purposes by a 55 percent vote at general elections and 60 percent vote at special and primary elections Such privilege would be limited to this and next year and the levies would be for two years duration. All such levies now must be submitted at general elecvote for passage

The other measure would enact a permanent law authorizing passage of special school tax levies at special or primary elections by 60 percent vote School levies may now be voted only at general elections by a majority vote.

Gardeners Get Warning

COLMBUS — (AP) — V. E. Kierns, extension horticulturist at Ohio State University, advises against use of TE chemical 2, 4-D as a weed killer in home gardens.

Kierns said although it is good for sweet corn and asparagus, it is harmful to other garden vegetables.

T. H. Parks, extension entomologist, said DDT should not be used as a fly control spray for dairy cows. He said several food and drug administration inspectors have found traces of the insecticide in the milk of DDT sprayed animals.

Smuggling of 'Travelers' Big Business

Fee Runs $3.00 To Flee Curtain

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — Man-smuggling has become a regular business in partitioned Germany.

It flourishes all along the 500-mile demarcation line between East and West Germany. Villagers of border communities on on both sides are on a constand lookout for holes in the iron curtain the Soviets let down with a bang last summer.

That severed completely the last few existing rail connections with the west and made interzonal travel more complicated than a trip around the world.

The business is mostly night work and consists of leading groups of illegal "travelers" across the zonal boundary. Expert trail hunters use hidden paths in the mountainous forest regions to smuggle travelers over the line. They prefer dark and moonless nights for their trade, which is becoming ever more difficult as police vigilance is increased on both sides.

Illegal border crossers said they paid their trail leader up to 10 marks ($3) Some of these trail leaders make 100 marks ($33) or more on each of these "conducted tours"

Man-smuggling across the east-west line has been flourishing ever since the end of the war. Allied four-power regulations required an interzonal travel permit for any German wishing to go from one zone to another. The American and British were the first to lift this restriction The French followed suit last year

The Russians, however, clamped down the lid even tighter on travel of Germans into the west zones. They also began rejecting Germans from the west at border check points, allegedly because of minor inaccuracies in their travel papers

Man-smuggling entered its boom period last summer. West German border police officials estimate that over a million Germans crossed the line illegally in both directions during 1948.

German police records for this period show 118,227 Germans were caught on the west side of the fence as they attempted to enter the American zone without proper papers. A similar number was arrested in the British zone, police said.

STROLLING IN THE ZOO— Linda Pazak, four, and her brother James, two, take Thea, a baby orangutan, for her first spring outing at Brookfield zoo in Chicago Thea seems to be enjoying the stroll but James appears a bit skeptical about the outstretched arm.

Steel Buying Slackening

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Magazine Steel reported today a noticeable decline in new buying and said manufacturing operations continue to slacken as buyers order only for definite needs.

The national metalworking industry publication declared that "with signs multiplying of approaching supply-demand balance in the standard market in most products. . .The mills are soliciting business more actively than at anytime since the war."

Steel asserted:

"Reversal of the tendency of steel mills to withdraw from remote areas is indicated by offerings of steel tonnages to a number of customers within the past 10 days.

"With the withdrawal of buyers from the market more tonnage is being offered for much earlier delivery than was the case only a few weeks ago."

Steel pointed out in a special report that cost of union demands for pensions and other security benefits to the industry would, if adopted in full, run as much as two and one-half billion dollars, annually.

The magazine said that "not only will it be mandatory for all employers to bargain with unions representing their employes on this plan, but also the difficulty of bargaining will be vastly increased because the subject is a complex one"

Overall production dropped one point last week to 100 per cent of capacity, Steel reported.

Unemployment Has Passed Its Peak, U. S. Officials Believe

WASHINGTON — (UP) — U. S. Employment Chief Robert C. Goodwin reported today that, as far as his jobless insurance roles are concerned, the recent wave of unemployment "may have passed its peak."

He said that both new and old claims for unemployment insurance declined last week. The claims of workers on the roles for a week or more dropped 6,000 to 1,943,700 for its first decline since November. New claims decreased 18,200 to 313,000, lowest figure since January.

Goodwin's report did not cover jobless workers who are not eligible for unemployment compensation

The commerce department reported, however, that total unemployment declined in March for the first time since October. The department said there were only 3,167,000 unemployed in March, compared with 3,221,000 in February.

Commerce Secretary Charles W. Sawyer immediately cautioned analysts against regarding the drop as especially significant. Despite the improvement, he said, there are still about 727,000 more jobless now than there were a year ago.

The increased employment was attributed almost entirely to favorable weather which encouraged farmers to take on hired hands for spring plantings The commerce department reported factory and other non-agricultural employment about steady.

Fate of Killer Elephant Left Uncertain After New Attack

PORT ARTHUR, TEX. — (UP) — The future of Alice, "killer" elephant of the King Brothers circus, was dark today.

The 17-year-old steller performer was shunted to the work gang while her latest victim, John T. Lewis, recovered in a hospital.

Pete Cristiani, a member of the Cristiani family of performers, said Alice had killed four persons and "it looks as though" she would have to be destroyed.

At Baytown Friday Alice slapped Lewis with her trunk and then tried a hand stand on his head. Lewis came out of that with a crushed chest and two broken ribs.

Trainer John Pugh said Alice would have killed Lewis if he hadn't run to his aid. That was the second time Alice had run amok within a week. On March 26 she seriously injured another circus employe, C. R. Bush.

Circus officials said they had known for some time that Alice, with the show for the past five years, didn't like her job.

"Alice," one trainer said, "just doesn't like people."

Lausche Expected to Propose 575 Million Ohio Budget

Boost In Operating Cost Seen

Welfare Units Will Get More

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche will deliver his biennial budget to the state legislature tonight if the printers have it ready. He has definitely promised it will be not later than Tuesday.

The budget recommendations have been closely guarded as finance director H. D. Defenbacher whittled down requests to fit anticipated revenues. The recommended appropriations, however, are expected to be around $575,000,000.

Such a budget would compare with $551,373,000 appropriated by the last legislature for the two-year period ended last Dec. 31. It would be a little in excess of four times the six months budget approved at the beginning of the session to operate state functions until July 1.

The six months budget of $145,809,000 equaled the amount spent during the last six months of the previous biennium ended last Dec. 31.

MORE LATER

The new budget which will be for a two-year period commencing July 1, this year will be only for current operations It will contain nothing for capital improvements which will be recommended later by the governor to be financed from current treasury surplus. Much of the $71,000,000 that was appropriated for capital improvements from treasury surplus two years ago remains unspent and must be reappropriated.

The governor had indicated that he may ask the legislature to freeze part of these surplus funds in the treasury to take care of contingencies which might arise during the next two years.

It is understood the new budget will allot virtually the same amount of money for each department and function as was spent on the basis of the last six months of 1948, excepting the welfare department. The expanded building program of the welfare department will require more money to operate the new facilities. Thus it is anticipated, schools, local governments and all other governmental functions will be limited to a basis of expenditures during the last six months of last year and the first six months of this year.

In addition to receiving the governor's budget message if it is ready for presentation tonight, the house of representatives has two important tax levy bills on its calendar for consideration. Both have been approved by the senate as emergency measures.

One would permit municipalities to adopt special tax levies for operating purposes by a 55 percent vote at general elections and 60 percent vote at special and primary elections Such privilege would be limited to this and next year and the levies would be for two years duration. All such levies now must be submitted at general elecvote for passage.

The other measure would enact a permanent law authorizing passage of special school tax levies at special or primary elections by 60 percent vote School levies may now be voted only at general elections by a majority vote.

Smuggling of 'Travelers' Big Business

Fee Runs $3.00 To Flee Curtain

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — Man-smuggling has become a regular business in partitioned Germany.

It flourishes all along the 500-mile demarcation line between East and West Germany. Villagers of border communities on on both sides are on a constand lookout for holes in the iron curtain the Soviets let down with a bang last summer.

That severed completely the last few existing rail connections with the west and made interzonal travel more complicated than a trip around the world.

The business is mostly night work and consists of leading groups of illegal "travelers" across the zonal boundary. Expert trail hunters use hidden paths in the mountainous forest regions to smuggle travelers over the line. They prefer dark and moonless nights for their trade, which is becoming ever more difficult as police vigilance is increased on both sides.

Illegal border crossers said they paid their trail leader up to 10 marks ($3) Some of these trail leaders make 100 marks ($33) or more on each of these "conducted tours."

Man-smuggling across the east-west line has been flourishing ever since the end of the war. Allied four-power regulations required an interzonal travel permit for any German wishing to go from one zone to another. The American and British were the first to lift this restriction. The French followed suit last year.

The Russians, however, clamped down the lid even tighter on travel of Germans into the west zones They also began rejecting Germans from the west at border check points, allegedly because of minor inaccuracies in their travel papers.

Man-smuggling entered its boom period last summer. West German border police officials estimate that over a million Germans crossed the line illegally in both directions during 1948.

German police records for this period show 118,227 Germans were caught on the west side of the fence as they attempted to enter the American zone without proper papers. A similar number was arrested in the British zone, police said.

Steel Buying Slackening

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Magazine Steel reported today a noticeable decline in new buying and said manufacturing operations continue to slacken as buyers order only for definite needs.

The national metalworking industry publication declared that "with signs multiplying of approaching supply-demand balance in the standard market in most products. . .The mills are soliciting business more actively than at anytime since the war."

Steel asserted:

"Reversal of the tendency of steel mills to withdraw from remote areas is indicated by offerings of steel tonnages to a number of customers within the past 10 days.

"With the withdrawal of buyers from the market more tonnage is being offered for much earlier delivery than was the case only a few weeks ago."

Steel pointed out in a special report that cost of union demands for pensions and other security benefits to the industry would, if adopted in full, run as much as two and one-half billion dollars, annually.

The magazine said that "not only will it be mandatory for all employers to bargain with unions representing their employes on this plan, but also the difficulty of bargaining will be vastly increased because the subject is a complex one."

Overall production dropped one point last week to 100 per cent of capacity, Steel reported.

Unemployment Has Passed Its Peak, U. S. Officials Believe

WASHINGTON — (UP) — U. S. Employment Chief Robert C. Goodwin reported today that, as far as his jobless insurance roles are concerned, the recent wave of unemployment "may have passed its peak."

He said that both new and old claims for unemployment insurance declined last week. The claims of workers on the roles for a week or more dropped 6,000 to 1,943,700 for its first decline since November. New claims decreased 18,200 to 313,000, lowest figure since January.

Goodwin's report did not cover jobless workers who are not eligible for unemployment compensation.

The commerce department reported, however, that total unemployment declined in March for the first time since October. The department said there were only 3,167,000 unemployed in March, compared with 3,221,000 in February.

Commerce Secretary Charles W. Sawyer immediately cautioned analysts against regarding the drop as especially significant. Despite the improvement, he said, there are still about 727,000 more jobless now than there were a year ago.

The increased employment was attributed almost entirely to favorable weather which encouraged farmers to take on hired hands for spring plantings The commerce department reported factory and other non-agricultural employment about steady.

Fate of Killer Elephant Left Uncertain After New Attack

PORT ARTHUR, TEX. — (UP) — The future of Alice, "killer" elephant of the King Brothers circus, was dark today.

The 17-year-old steller performer was shunted to the work gang while her latest victim, John T. Lewis, recovered in a hospital.

Pete Cristiani, a member of the Cristiani family of performers, said Alice had killed four persons and "it looks as though" she would have to be destroyed.

At Baytown Friday Alice slapped Lewis with her trunk and then tried a hand stand on his head. Lewis came out of that with a crushed chest and two broken ribs.

Trainer John Pugh said Alice would have killed Lewis if he hadn't run to his aid. That was the second time Alice had run amok within a week. On March 26 she seriously injured another circus employe, C. R. Bush.

Circus officials said they had known for some time that Alice, with the show for the past five years, didn't like her job.

"Alice," one trainer said, "just doesn't like people."

Equality In Job Opportunities Sought

REALISTIC APPROACH to voluntary extension of job opportunities to qualified members of minority groups is being made in Cleveland, where a subcommittee of the Chamber of Commerce has made a study on which a booklet, "How to Apply Cooperative Employment Practices", is based.

It is explained that the booklet "is directed toward helping management think through the problems related to introducing minority group employes into white collar jobs", recognizing, however, that "the same principles apply as well to the introduction of any minority group into occupations, wherever found."

There is also the statement: "We are firm in our belief that the voluntary plan which we present will bring about greater progress than could possibly be achieved by any form of legislation, and the educational and cooperative features offered under this voluntary plan could not be accomplished in the face of legislative compulsion."

Assuming need for employes, an immediate point made is that available persons be of suitable capability, background, personal character, dependability and manner, but that there be no discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

Recognizing that delicate but important problems are involved in broadening employment policies, emphasis is placed on the need for explanation, extending through various departments, with opportunity for free expression of objections, so that the company's policy is thoroughly understood.

It is made clear that standards of job performance and personal conduct required of minority group employes are exactly the same as those for the employe body generally, and that these standards are explained to minority group members and adhered to rigidly.

It is suggested that for additional information and material, and for assistance in applying the plan, anyone interested may consult the Cleveland Committee on Employment Practices, 221 Union Commerce Building.

As problems involved in this effort to equalize job opportunities on the basis of capability are found in all cities, study of the program being furthered in Cleveland may well extend throughout this and other states.

Middle East Not Being Neglected

LEST ANYONE conclude that stiffening of defense lines in Western Europe, as a result of the negotiation of the Atlantic Pact, may mean the relaxing of such lines in the Middle East, the state department is sending out warnings that such is not the case.

At a recent press conference Secretary of State Dean Acheson stated that the United States is still backing up Turkey, Greece and Iran. He indicated that an attack on any of these countries would be regarded as gravely as would an attack on a country bound by the Atlantic Pact.

This statement is being broadcast by the Voice of America, as is also Secretary Acheson's denial that we are preparing to attack Russia with Iran as a vantage point. The secretary of state informs the world that the United States abhors war, and has no plans toward making war on anyone.

It is quite apparent that our foreign policy, so often considered vacillating, is following a line of physical strength as far as Russia is concerned. Present world conditions are similar in some ways to those which existed shortly before World War II. We are beginning to face these conditions with strength and resolution. These qualities, with wisdom added, need to be carried more deeply into our foreign policy.

Electricity Is Easing Farm Work

THE school of agriculture at Purdue University is successfully operating an experimental farm where more than three hundred jobs are lifted from aching backs and performed by electricity.

This complete electrification covers many of the familiar chores of barn and house. Pulling a switch will also turn on germicidal lamps in the milk-house and ventilating fans in the storage buildings. The farmer's wife will appreciate the fact that even the milk-house equipment is washed electrically.

The experimenters are working to improve these processes and to add to the list with the idea of improving the quality and increasing the quantity of farm products, and at the same time lowering operating costs.

In the long run, mechanical gains for the farmer also benefit everyone else. More milk, more and better food, produced with the expenditure of less labor and money, mean not only a better life and more leisure for the farmer, but a better diet for people everywhere.

Difference In Methods Revealed

HITLERISM AND STALINISM are alike in enough ways to induce many Americans to exaggerate the resemblance. Hence it is appropriate to have the reminder uttered by the veteran writer on Russia, Walter Duranty, in his new book, "Stalin & Co. The Politburo, the Men Who Run Russia".

He says that Goering and his colleagues were greedy, indulgent gangsters. The Politburo members, by contrast, rose to their posts by hard work and self-denial. They continually strove for self-improvement through education, and earned their promotion by their merit.

These characteristics, of course, make them more formidable as enemies, more helpful as allies.

Nevada is toying with the idea of having divorces dispensed by slot machines—which would probably be regarded as an advance step in that state.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Secretary of State DEAN ACHESON: "What appears to be a brutal threat to freedom of thought, conscience and religion has been developed by the authoritarian regimes which control eastern European peoples."

* * *

HAROLD E. STASSEN: "Giving due consideration to European needs and to our own total economic situation and capacity, we should regularly invest a portion of our resources in Asia for the resistance to communism."

* * *

Republican Foreign Affairs Expert JOHN FOSTER DULLES, when asked whether formulation of the Atlantic Pact means failure of the United Nations: "I think the United Nations will continue to be sort of a town meeting where the nations can come and exchange views."

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

'United States of Europe' Advancing

HOPES of generations of great idealists for creation of a United States of Europe are moving closer to fruition — closer to peace.

Diplomatic representatives of ten nations are meeting in London to complete details for the establishment of a Parliament of Europe.

These ten are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Luxembourg and Eire. It is hoped to see this Parliament in session by the coming summer, probably in Strasbourg, France.

When this congress opens it will represent a brave beginning of the United States of Europe for which famous statesmen have labored so earnestly and so long.

Prominent among these was France's famous Aristide Briand—premier, Nobel peace prize winner and player of an important part in bringing about the Kellogg Pact to outlaw war.

As one of the old timers I had the privilege of knowing the humanitarian Briand. I'm sure his spirit, with his old-time genial smile, will be standing beside the presiding official when the gavel falls to signal the opening of the first session of that parliament.

There was a lot of talk about a United States of Europe in the last century as a means of fostering peace. At that time the so-called "balance of power" was depended on to prevent conflict.

World War One demonstrated that the balance of power was out-moded and must be replaced. The result was the League of Nations. However, it quickly became apparent that the league was too hererogeneous in structure to function well. There was too great divergence of race and customs among the world-wide membership. The same regulations wouldn't fit all cases.

* * *

Breeding Place of War.

THIS weakness gave a fillip to the idea of a United States of Europe. It was recognized that Europe was the greatest spot as a breeder of world wars.

Supporters of such a united states pointed out that a closer union could be formed among the nations of the continent because of the similarity in race and culture. This would be conducive to peace and the idea could be made to fit into the League of Nations.

Well, the plan didn't jell quickly enough and another world war blazed out from the continent. Now the project is being revived and spurred by the anxiety to do all possible to prevent the development of a third global catastrophe. As projected, the United States of Europe would fit into the framework of the United Nations.

So far as one can see this is likely to represent a step in the direction of the "one world," which isn't likely to be achieved until human nature has undergone a mighty change.

As a matter of fact, it's easy to believe that when future generations achieve "one world" it may be comprised of a large number of just such blocs of nations as the projected "United States of Europe." That would seem logical in view of the diversity of special interests.

Certainly it's difficult to imagine "one world" in which the member states would surrender their sovereignty to a parent parliament. There is too much pride in nationalism to permit of such emasculation. However, this need not preclude wholesale cooperation for general welfare among the various groups of "united states."

Washington Calling

Changes In Washington

By MARQUIS CHILDS

IN OTHER times, often known as the good old days, spring and the cherry blossoms brought to Washington a crop of visitors from out in the country. The tourist duly photographed the blossoms and the White House, looked down for half an hour or so on the fulminations of the Senate and went home satisfied that all was normal in Washington.

But this spring something new has been added. The drama has been intensified, stepped up a thousand times. A cast of star players from Europe is here.

This formidable cast is assembled for the great signing of the Pact. The presence of these European luminaries underscores the focus of power that burns so fiercely today on this once-rustic and simple capital.

Let's take a look at the cast of characters. Even though he has no official part in the ceremony itself and will not even return to Washington to sign the Atlantic Pact, the central figure is, nevertheless, Winston Churchill.

He is a solid chunk of history standing athwart our times. No casting director could hope to come up to the appropriateness of his appearance. The pink bulldog face, the big cigar, the hand upraised in beneficent greeting, the whole trademark of his personality is stamped on the years he has lived through.

No historian can ever hope to appraise his influence. It has been too all pervasive, too subtle and continuous. His enemies, and they are many and bitter, will say that he brought about our destruction if we are destroyed. His admirers, and they are far more numerous and articulate, will say that he saved us if we are saved.

* * *

Looking Them Over.

IN ANY drama coincidence has a part and particularly in the sub-plot. By coincidence, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin arrives while the Great British star is on-stage in the full flight of a major speech.

But in many respects Bevin, who comes from the opposite social and economic pole, can hole his own. He has a stubborn, massive quality that is both infuriating and reassuring. So much of his life has been spent driving hard bargains for a pence on the pound with determined employers.

The habit of tough bargaining is one that sticks. Bevin looks suspiciously out from behind spectacles with black rims half an inch thick.

An important member of this troupe from Europe is Count Carlo Sforza, the Italian foreign minister. Sforza is everything that we mean by the word European in its old sense. He has the culture, the urbanity, the poise, the convictions unshaken by the terrible storms that have swept his continent.

At 76 Sforza is the living embodiment of European history as Churchill is of British. Escaping from the brutalities of Italian fascism, he had the experience of exile common to so many. For seven years he lived in the United States, teaching, lecturing, pondering on the tragic fate of mankind.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France is in his way symbolic. He looks the part of the embattled "third force," battered and harried but still resolute and even in moments such as the present permitting himself a ray of hope.

If, like the Victorian novelist, we could look behind the spoken lines and into the players' minds and hearts, we might be in for a shock. Their doubts, their fears, their occasional despair are not on display.

This is a time to look forward bravely and hopefully no matter what the inward reservations. It is one of those ceremonial tableaux that punctuate history and, since hope springs eternal, it may even be something more than that.

Southern Dish For Cows.

Scientists in the field of agriculture say that they have cooked up a special "southern" dish for dairy cows that will cut milk costs up to a cent a quart.

This Dixie dairy plate special consists of three parts dried citrus pulp, three parts dried sweet potatoes, one part peanut meal; and one part cottonseed meal.

All these contents are products of the South.

Cows which ate this mixture gave just as much milk as they did on a corn, oats and wheat combination and at a considerable saving.

Although the milk price to the consumer has been cut in some parts of the state, it still must come down a great deal more if the folks who really need to drink milk are to find enough of it within their reach.—Atlanta Constitution.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Depression Looms, But Can Be Averted

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — There's been a lot of petty bickering between the President's Council of Economic Advisers, but there's one unpleasant fact they all agree on. They foresee definite depression in 1950 or 1951 — unless immediate steps are taken to head it off.

The council, it will be recalled, was created by Congress in 1946 to advise the White House on how to ward off depression. And although the three members differ on a lot of things, they feel that depression can be stopped —though only by the concerted cooperation of the administration, Congress, business, farmers and labor.

To understand the background of the Economic Council's vitally important business diagnosis, it should be recalled that for the past 100 years American economy has been riding a roller-coaster of ups and downs, inflation and deflation, of booms and busts.

In the past 50 years these ups and downs have become more severe—so severe that the Politburo in Moscow is known to have based its global strategy on the theory that one more economic depression would wreck the entire American system.

* * *

History's Greatest Boom.

SINCE V-J Day most Americans have been enjoying the greatest wave of prosperity in history—for two reasons: 1. the public's unsatisfied demand for goods they could not buy during the war; 2. the cold war, which has caused the government to pour billions into the world's economic stream.

However, the council estimates that the long pent-up demand for automobiles, refrigerators and other consumers' goods is now just about filled, while the vast expenditures to Europe in another year will begin to taper off, so that depression will come in 1950-51.

Another factor is the psychological effect of swiftly rising prices followed by dropping prices. If OPA and inflation controls had not been thrown overboard by Congress and prices had not shot up so high, business dislocation might not be so bad now.

For, while falling prices at the moment may be healthy, yet a lot of business—especially small business — always gets hurt by falling prices. And the psychological effect of falling prices encourages depression; for people, waiting for lower prices, don't buy.

* * *

President's Advisers.

THE three members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers are:

Chairman Dr. Edwin Nourse, a New Yorker, long-time member of the Brookings Institute, and generally considered the most conservative counselor.

Leon Keyserling, a native of South Carolina, former secretary to Senator Wagner, and who has had a long experience in the government, chiefly in the U. S. Housing Authority. A liberal, Keyserling frequently disagrees with more conservative Chairman Nourse.

John D. Clark, a native of Colorado, and former economics professor at the University of Nebraska and the University of Denver. Clark usually lines up with liberal Keyserling.

However, the council has composed its differences to recommend a program to President Truman which it regards as absolutely essential to block depression. While all three agree, Dr. Nourse considers the voluntary phase of the program more important, but Keyserling and Clark, though not disagreeing, would place more emphasis on the government phase. The program which Nourse considers most important is:

Farmers—Convince farmers to grow bigger crops and accept somewhat lower support prices, thereby reducing the consumers' food bill, but continuing a reasonable return for farmers.

Business—Sell businessmen on lower profits per item, thereby getting greater volume and continued reasonable profits.

Labor—Persuade labor leaders not to seek wage increases that will throw the economy out of gear.

* * *

Government Remedies

THE Clark-Keyserling group, while agreeing with the above, gravely doubts the government's ability to "persuade" business, farmers and labor. Therefore, they put more emphasis on hard - and - fast government incentives which would prop up the economy regardless of persuasion. They propose:

1. Increased social security benefits to take care of unemployed and the aged. Present old-age pensions are woefully low and unemployment benefits last only a brief interval after unemployment starts.

2. Increase minimum wages to 75 cents. This is aimed at increasing buying power in the lower brackets.

At present, union labor's constant round of wage demands has put organized labor far ahead of the great mass of unskilled and unorganized labor. One sure way to prevent depression is to promote buying power by lower income groups.

3. Low-cost housing, built through government subsidies. This also helps to provide work.

4. Aid to education. This would increase teachers' salaries and provide new schoolhouse construction.

5. Stockpiling critical materials. This is not only an essential safeguard in case of war, but the buying of raw materials helps to bolster sagging economy.

Dr. Nourse agrees that this phase of the program also is essential to prevent otherwise inevitable depression in 1950 or 1951.

Frankly Speaking

The Two Ways of Life

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON.—In the midst of a Senate debate a question arose about a book, "Lessons of the Last Decade," written 20 years ago by Paul H. Douglas, now Democratic senator from Illinois.

To be sure it was quoted the way he wanted it quoted, Douglas, serving his first year in the Senate, got up and read some of the book himself.

What Douglas read was his philosophy on the difference between the long-run benefits of democracy and the long-run dangers of communism.

Douglas, 57, and a well-known economist, believes that a good society is best reached by peaceful means and that communism, achieved by conspiracy and violence, ends in tyranny and degeneracy of government.

* * *

Difference In Methods.

HE STATED his position—which is the position of democratic thinkers of the West—so clearly, that some of what he said is given here:

"Even if the communists were to seize power, their work of government would inevitably be poisoned by the methods used in attaining it.

"Their opponents would naturally be driven to resort to that same method of violent revolution which the communists had embraced.

"The communists would, therefore, need constantly to be on their guard against an armed uprising led by those who had enjoyed greater economic and social privileges under the former regime.

"They would, moreover, suspect such revolts even when not planned and the inevitable result would be the permeation of society by a state system of espionage and the ruthless use of terror as a means of intimidation.

"Such an atmosphere of suspicion and suppression would go far to vitiate the very spirit of cooperative fellowship which the communists hope to engender by running the industries and government of a country for the benefit of the common man.

"The disdain which the communists have for the intelligence and courage of the majority leads them, moreover, to keep power in the hands of their aggressive minority.

"Their venture seems to them the supreme value and they are naturally unwilling to entrust it to that amorphous mass of people who did nothing to bring it into being. Only those who have sacrificed themselves for the new society are adjudged worthy of directing it.

"They will govern and work for the benefit of the people but not allow the latter to participate in the ultimate decisions of policy. In short, they will hold on to power for themselves. . .

"The truth of the matter is that, whenever men are removed from the bracing necessity of submitting their acts and policies to the approval of the great mass in whose behalf they are supposed to be laboring, they tend to degenerate. . ."

Then, shifting to the problem of leadership in a democracy, Douglas said:

"The knowledge that they must secure popular support makes leaders more solicitous than they otherwise would be to further the real interests of those upon whose approval their continuance in office depends.

"For these reasons, the democratic way of life is ultimately the best method of obtaining good government while, as John Stuart Mill long ago pointed out, it is also the most effective means of raising the level of civic intelligence."

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, Robert Mitchum is out of the hoosegow and you might get the idea from his photographic poses and statements that he was one of the great martyrs of history, just having sacrificed himself for a great cause.

* * *

I gather that he is prepared to forgive everybody if he gets sufficient applause, satisfactory scripts, adequate lighting on the marquees and enough press notices.

* * *

It almost seemed funny that his release was not accompanied by the usual Hollywood credit lines for incidental music, sound effects and extra dialogue.

* * *

Mitchum took his medicine and did his bit. He is entitled to a fresh start, but does it have to be in technicolor with special attention to the children's trade?

Farmer's Diary

Learn How To Work

By CALVIN A. BYERS

ELBERT HUBBARD said: "In useful work there is no degree. That which is necessary is sacred and nothing else is!"

Hubbard's philosophy on work: "Work is for the Worker. Can you afford to shirk or make believe or do slipshod evasive work? No, because what the world thinks and says about you is really no matter, but what you think and what you do are vital as Fate."

* * *

I THINK sometimes that we have failed to educate our young folks to respect callouses. . . in the right places. If I had my way, I would make it necessary for every high school graduate to learn the basic principles of agriculture and have practical experience in working on the land before receiving a diploma. Or else I would require him to learn some other valuable trade.

A really educated person uses all of himself wisely—and can go from working with his hands to working with his brain, finding recreation in the change. Versatility is to be commended —not at the expense of thoroughness in fundamentals.

"There is a dignity and even a divinity in labor. The apostles were laboring men. Jesus was a carpenter—but something more."

I talked with a bright man the other day. He works in a local shop. Beyond middle age, his heavy hands have fingers darkened and soiled by constant grease and grime. His face is wrinkled and puckered, but his eyes are bright and alive.

He lives in a neat little house at the outskirts of town, and his premises prove that he is an artist at heart, as well as a skilled artisan.

"You must have grown up on a farm," I said to him.

"That's right," he said, his face lighting up. "I got all the way to $10 a month, and board for awhile—but I learned a lot. Then my wife, she worked as a hired girl on a farm for $3 a week. That was in Grover Cleveland's time—people in the cities were going hungry. We both know what hard work means. By comparison, my present job's a cinch!"

"How long have you been at that same shop?"

"Thirty years. . . wife says I'm gettin' lazy because about all I do now is inspect and oversee. But seems like I'm still needed—anyway they keep me at it."

"The reason why is written on your face," I told him. "You're honest and you insist on a thorough job."

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THERE will be eclipses of the sun and moon this month but we'll be too busy watching John L. Lewis to look up.

* * *

How do we know we're not potential material for District 50 if we don't keep our eyes at Lewis-level?

* * *

In fact when the sun and moon are blacked out he's apt to hand a miner's lamp and dues card to any citizen overheard saying "It's as dark as a coal mine."

* * *

You know Mr. Lewis is on the move again toward his goal of an enlarged personal labor empire and this time he hopes to make it by cab . . . Naturally when he steps in a cab the flag goes down.

* * *

Anyway the total eclipse of the moon is April 12, partial eclipse of the sun April 28 . . . and still no sign of eclipse of Lewis whole or partial.

Red Cross Fund Drive Near Goal

$47,471 Reported; More Units Over Top

Red Cross campaign workers were nearing the goal of $48,836 today as a total of $47,471.61 was reported from the chapter house.

This included the $7,361.56 reported by Shelby Saturday, more than $800 over that city's goal.

Campaign officials said today that the remainder of the goal is in sight. They are just waiting for it to be reported and turned in at the chapter house. It is expected by Wednesday at the latest that Mansfield and Richland county will have gone over the top in the 1949 drive for memberships.

Five townships were reported as having exceeded their goals. These include: Jefferson, Harley Beal, chairman, quota $120, receipts $123; Weller, Mrs. Ralph Oswalt, chairman, quota, $218, receipts, $226.10.

Mrs. R. D. Hutchinson of Plymouth township reported receipts totaling $178.50 with a quota of $166. L. L. Rinehart of Sandusky township turned in $132 with a quota of $116, and Mrs. L. T. Maxwell of Troy township turned in $100. The quota had been $93.

RIPLEY — (AP) — Franklin J. (Bud) Berry, 24, was killed Saturday when he touched a live wire while working on a utility pole.

HEADS PHYSICIANS — President-elect at the 30th annual meeting of the American College of Physicians, underway in New York, is Dr. Reginald Ritz, Harvard Medical school. Reports on recent advances in medicine are being exchanged by 4,000 at the meeting. (International)

Tax Collections In County Climb

County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said $5,949 in general and $5,874 in classified personal property taxes were collected Saturday.

That brings the total to $114,535 in general and $116,679 in classified taxes collected so far for the first-half period. Last day for paying without penalty is April 10.

Membership List Filling

Applications for new memberships in Mansfield's Civic Music association vied with membership renewals at noon today as the membership list filled rapidly.

Officials of the association said the campaign, which so far has shown one of the smallest turnovers of memberships in history, will close at 6 p. m. today.

Campaign headquarters were opened early today in the basement of the Gas company building.

Officials said 780 memberships have been received in the early mail campaign. Old members who have not returned their renewal cards will be contacted before deadline today.

Very few cancellations of memberships have been received, officials said. However, they estimated that approximately 125 new members will be added to the 1949-'50 season list.

Swing Clubs At Strikers

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Deputy sheriffs and policemen swung clubs freely today in a fight with 300 marching strikers and sympathizers at the Fawick Airflex company. Four pickets were arrested and several others were injured slightly.

In the fourth scuffle in the month-long strike, the authorities acted when the marchers started across a line drawn by the sheriff marking a "no man's land."

This zone was around the plant entrance. Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney wanted it left open so back-to-work employes could enter. The march was stopped and the employes got in.

Chicago Paper Strike Goes On

CHICAGO — (UP) — Union rejection of a "final" offer today wiped out hope for any immediate settlement of the 17-month-old strike by AFL typesetters against Chicago newspapers.

The union announced yesterday that its members had rejected by a vote of 1,266 to 93 the $10 wage increase and other contract proposals offered by the publishers.

'Mother of 1949'

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Mrs. Sally Schmidt of Garfield Heights has been chosen Ohio's mother of 1949. She will compete for American mother of 1949 in the annual contest of the Golden Rule Foundation of New York. She is the wife of Leo W. Schmidt, a contractor, and is the mother of three sons.

Registrations Gain a Little

Thirty-one persons had registered or transferred their registrations this morning with the Richland county board of elections. This is the last day for registering to vote in the May 3 Mansfield city primary.

Two extra clerks worked today, filling out cards for last-minute registrants.

Thomas R. Zeigler, board clerk, said the board offices would close at the regular time, 4 p. m., but persons there at that time will be given the opportunity to register.

Moose Election Slated Tuesday

Election of officers will be held at the Moose Lodge, 131 North Walnut street, at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Offices to be filled include those of lodge governor, junior governor, treasurer, prelate, and one trustee. Installation of new officers will take place at a meeting April 26.

A lunch will be served following the election Tuesday.

Tavern Shut Temporarily

"The most troublesome place in Ashland county has been closed," Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod declared last night.

The officer's statement followed the closing of Aero Tavern, scene of a pitched knife battle Friday night.

The tavern, located on Savannah road, will be reopened Wednesday night unless state liquor officials intervene, he added. The brief shutdown was described by Sheriff Rickenbrod as "disciplinary" action.

He added that he has been called to the tavern three or four times since Jan. 1 and declared the inn caused "more trouble than any other place in Ashland county."

White vigorously denied the allegation. He testified he "was not a drinking man."

White said the humiliation of being "thrown in jail with a bunch of howling, raving drunks where he caught a cold should be punishment enough."

Police Chief Dies

ALLIANCE — (AP) — Harry L. Stark, police chief here since 1927, died yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 62 and had been on the force since 1914.

Stark is survived by the widow and four children. He was born in Massillon.

Sharp Rise In Oil Shares Turns Stock Market Higher

NEW YORK — (UP) — A sharp rise in oil shares turned the stock market higher today before noon after a steady start.

Gains in the oil group ranged to 3 points in Amerada corporation with Plymouth oil up 2 and gains of a point on Standard (N. J.) and Ohio oil.

The gold shares, up sharply late last week in response to new and equally uninformed rumors of an impending price rise, turned lower.

Nickel Plate gained a point in the rails. U. S. Steel and Younstown Sheet and Tube were higher in the steel section. Du Pont rose more than a point in the chemicals.

Chrysler and General Motors corporation were firm in spite of new talk of growing sales resistance and probable widescale price cuts, implemented by the week-end slash announced by the Ford motor company.

Equality In Job Opportunities Sought

REALISTIC APPROACH to voluntary extension of job opportunities to qualified members of minority groups is being made in Cleveland, where a subcommittee of the Chamber of Commerce has made a study on which a booklet, "How to Apply Cooperative Employment Practices", is based.

It is explained that the booklet "is directed toward helping management think through the problems related to introducing minority group employes into white collar jobs", recognizing, however, that "the same principles apply as well to the introduction of any minority group into occupations, wherever found."

There is also the statement: "We are firm in our belief that the voluntary plan which we present will bring about greater progress than could possibly be achieved by any form of legislation, and the educational and cooperative features offered under this voluntary plan could not be accomplished in the face of legislative compulsion."

Assuming need for employes, an immediate point made is that available persons be of suitable capability, background, personal character, dependability and manner, but that there be no discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

Recognizing that delicate but important problems are involved in broadening employment policies, emphasis is placed on the need for explanation, extending through various departments, with opportunity for free expression of objections, so that the company's policy is thoroughly understood.

It is made clear that standards of job performance and personal conduct required of minority group employes are exactly the same as those for the employe body generally, and that these standards are explained to minority group members and adhered to rigidly.

It is suggested that for additional information and material, and for assistance in applying the plan, anyone interested may consult the Cleveland Committee on Employment Practices, 221 Union Commerce Building.

As problems involved in this effort to equalize job opportunities on the basis of capability are found in all cities, study of the program being furthered in Cleveland may well extend throughout this and other states.

Middle East Not Being Neglected

LEST ANYONE conclude that stiffening of defense lines in Western Europe, as a result of the negotiation of the Atlantic Pact, may mean the relaxing of such lines in the Middle East, the state department is sending out warnings that such is not the case.

At a recent press conference Secretary of State Dean Acheson stated that the United States is still backing up Turkey, Greece and Iran. He indicated that an attack on any of these countries would be regarded as gravely as would an attack on a country bound by the Atlantic Pact.

This statement is being broadcast by the Voice of America, as is also Secretary Acheson's denial that we are preparing to attack Russia with Iran as a vantage point. The secretary of state informs the world that the United States abhors war, and has no plans toward making war on anyone.

It is quite apparent that our foreign policy, so often considered vacillating, is following a line of physical strength as far as Russia is concerned. Present world conditions are similar in some ways to those which existed shortly before World War II. We are beginning to face these conditions with strength and resolution. These qualities, with wisdom added, need to be carried more deeply into our foreign policy.

Electricity Is Easing Farm Work

THE school of agriculture at Purdue University is successfully operating an experimental farm where more than three hundred jobs are lifted from aching backs and performed by electricity.

This complete electrification covers many of the familiar chores of barn and house. Pulling a switch will also turn on germicidal lamps in the milk-house and ventilating fans in the storage buildings. The farmer's wife will appreciate the fact that even the milk-house equipment is washed electrically.

The experimenters are working to improve these processes and to add to the list with the idea of improving the quality and increasing the quantity of farm products, and at the same time lowering operating costs.

In the long run, mechanical gains for the farmer also benefit everyone else. More milk, more and better food, produced with the expenditure of less labor and money, mean not only a better life and more leisure for the farmer, but a better diet for people everywhere.

Difference In Methods Revealed

HITLERISM AND STALINISM are alike in enough ways to induce many Americans to exaggerate the resemblance. Hence it is appropriate to have the reminder uttered by the veteran writer on Russia, Walter Duranty, in his new book, "Stalin & Co. The Politburo, the Men Who Run Russia".

He says that Goering and his colleagues were greedy, indulgent gangsters. The Politburo members, by contrast, rose to their posts by hard work and self-denial. They continually strove for self-improvement through education, and earned their promotion by their merit.

These characteristics, of course, make them more formidable as enemies, more helpful as allies.

Nevada is toying with the idea of having divorces dispensed by slot machines—which would probably be regarded as an advance step in that state.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Secretary of State DEAN ACHESON: "What appears to be a brutal threat to freedom of thought, conscience and religion has been developed by the authoritarian regimes which control eastern European peoples."

HAROLD E. STASSEN: "Giving due consideration to European needs and to our own total economic situation and capacity, we should regularly invest a portion of our resources in Asia for the resistance to communism."

* * *

Republican Foreign Affairs Expert JOHN FOSTER DULLES, when asked whether formulation of the Atlantic Pact means failure of the United Nations: "I think the United Nations will continue to be sort of a town meeting where the nations can come and exchange views."

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

'United States of Europe' Advancing

HOPES of generations of great idealists for creation of a United States of Europe are moving closer to fruition — closer to peace.

Diplomatic representatives of ten nations are meeting in London to complete details for the establishment of a Parliament of Europe.

These ten are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Luxembourg and Eire. It is hoped to see this Parliament in session by the coming summer, probably in Strasbourg, France.

When this congress opens it will represent a brave beginning of the United States of Europe for which famous statesmen have labored so earnestly and so long.

Prominent among these was France's famous Aristide Briand—premier, Nobel peace prize winner and player of an important part in bringing about the Kellogg Pact to outlaw war.

As one of the old timers I had the privilege of knowing the humanitarian Briand. I'm sure his spirit, with his old-time genial smile, will be standing beside the presiding official when the gavel falls to signal the opening of the first session of that parliament.

There was a lot of talk about a United States of Europe in the last century as a means of fostering peace. At that time the so-called "balance of power" was depended on to prevent conflict.

World War One demonstrated that the balance of power was out-moded and must be replaced. The result was the League of Nations. However, it quickly became apparent that the league was too hererogeneous in structure to function well. There was too great divergence of race and customs among the world-wide membership. The same regulations wouldn't fit all cases.

* * *

Breeding Place of War.

THIS weakness gave a fillip to the idea of a United States of Europe. It was recognized that Europe was the greatest spot as a breeder of world wars.

Supporters of such a united states pointed out that a closer union could be formed among the nations of the continent because of the similarity in race and culture. This would be conducive to peace and the idea could be made to fit into the League of Nations.

Well, the plan didn't jell quickly enough and another world war blazed out from the continent. Now the project is being revived and spurred by the anxiety to do all possible to prevent the development of a third global catastrophe. As projected, the United States of Europe would fit into the framework of the United Nations.

So far as one can see this is likely to represent a step in the direction of the "one world," which isn't likely to be achieved until human nature has undergone a mighty change.

As a matter of fact, it's easy to believe that when future generations achieve "one world" it may be comprised of a large number of just such blocs of nations as the projected "United States of Europe." That would seem logical in view of the diversity of special interests.

Certainly it's difficult to imagine "one world" in which the member states would surrender their sovereignty to a parent parliament. There is too much pride in nationalism to permit of such emasculation. However, this need not preclude wholesale cooperation for general welfare among the various groups of "united states."

Washington Calling

Changes In Washington

By MARQUIS CHILDS

IN OTHER times, often known as the good old days, spring and the cherry blossoms brought to Washington a crop of visitors from out in the country. The tourist duly photographed the blossoms and the White House, looked down for half an hour or so on the fulminations of the Senate and went home satisfied that all was normal in Washington.

But this spring something new has been added. The drama has been intensified, stepped up a thousand times. A cast of star players from Europe is here.

This formidable cast is assembled for the great signing of the Pact. The presence of these European luminaries underscores the focus of power that burns so fiercely today on this once-rustic and simple capital.

Let's take a look at the cast of characters. Even though he has no official part in the ceremony itself and will not even return to Washington to sign the Atlantic Pact, the central figure is, nevertheless, Winston Churchill.

He is a solid chunk of history standing athwart our times. No casting director could hope to come up to the appropriateness of his appearance. The pink bulldog face, the big cigar, the hand upraised in beneficent greeting, the whole trademark of his personality is stamped on the years he has lived through.

No historian can ever hope to appraise his influence. It has been too all pervasive, too subtle and continuous. His enemies, and they are many and bitter, will say that he brought about our destruction if we are destroyed. His admirers, and they are far more numerous and articulate, will say that he saved us if we are saved.

* * *

Looking Them Over.

IN ANY drama coincidence has a part and particularly in the sub-plot. By coincidence, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin arrives while the Great British star is on-stage in the full flight of a major speech.

But in many respects Bevin, who comes from the opposite social and economic pole, can hold his own. He has a stubborn, massive quality that is both infuriating and reassuring. So much of his life has been spent driving hard bargains for a pence on the pound with determined employers.

The habit of tough bargaining is one that sticks. Bevin looks suspiciously out from behind spectacles with black rims half an inch thick.

An important member of this troupe from Europe is Count Carlo Sforza, the Italian foreign minister. Sforza is everything that we mean by the word European in its old sense. He has the culture, the urbanity, the poise, the convictions unshaken by the terrible storms that have swept his continent.

At 76 Sforza is the living embodiment of European history as Churchill is of British. Escaping from the brutalities of Italian fascism, he had the experience of exile common to so many. For seven years he lived in the United States, teaching, lecturing, pondering on the tragic fate of mankind.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France is in his way symbolic. He looks the part of the embattled "third force," battered and harried but still resolute and even in moments such as the present permitting himself a ray of hope.

If, like the Victorian novelist, we could look behind the spoken lines and into the players' minds and hearts, we might be in for a shock. Their doubts, their fears, their occasional despair are not on display.

This is a time to look forward bravely and hopefully no matter what the inward reservations. It is one of those ceremonial tableaux that punctuate history and, since hope springs eternal, it may even be something more than that.

Southern Dish For Cows.

Scientists in the field of agriculture say that they have cooked up a special "southern" dish for dairy cows that will cut milk costs up to a cent a quart.

This Dixie dairy plate special consists of three parts dried citrus pulp, three parts dried sweet potatoes, one part peanut meal; and one part cottonseed meal.

All these contents are products of the South.

Cows which ate this mixture gave just as much milk as they did on a corn, oats and wheat combination and at a considerable saving.

Although the milk price to the consumer has been cut in some parts of the state, it still must come down a great deal more if the folks who really need to drink milk are to find enough of it within their reach.—Atlanta Constitution.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Depression Looms, But Can Be Averted

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — There's been a lot of petty bickering between the President's Council of Economic Advisers, but there's one unpleasant fact they all agree on. They foresee definite depression in 1950 or 1951 — unless immediate steps are taken to head it off.

The council, it will be recalled, was created by Congress in 1946 to advise the White House on how to ward off depression. And although the three members differ on a lot of things, they feel that depression can be stopped—though only by the concerted cooperation of the administration, Congress, business, farmers and labor.

To understand the background of the Economic Council's vitally important business diagnosis, it should be recalled that for the past 100 years American economy has been riding a roller-coaster of ups and downs, inflation and deflation, of booms and busts.

In the past 50 years these ups and downs have become more severe—so severe that the Politburo in Moscow is known to have based its global strategy on the theory that one more economic depression would wreck the entire American system.

* * *

History's Greatest Boom.

SINCE V-J Day most Americans have been enjoying the greatest wave of prosperity in history—for two reasons: 1, the public's unsatisfied demand for goods they could not buy during the war; 2, the cold war, which has caused the government to pour billions into the world's economic stream.

However, the council estimates that the long pent-up demand for automobiles, refrigerators and other consumers' goods is now just about filled, while the vast expenditures to Europe in another year will begin to taper off, so that depression will come in 1950-51.

Another factor is the psychological effect of swiftly rising prices followed by dropping prices. If OPA and inflation controls had not been thrown overboard by Congress and prices had not shot up so high, business dislocation might not be so bad now.

For, while falling prices at the moment may be healthy, yet a lot of business—especially small business — always gets hurt by falling prices. And the psychological effect of falling prices encourages depression; for people, waiting for lower prices, don't buy.

* * *

President's Advisers.

THE three members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers are:

Chairman Dr. Edwin Nourse, a New Yorker, long-time member of the Brookings Institute, and generally considered the most conservative counselor.

Leon Keyserling, a native of South Carolina, former secretary to Senator Wagner, and who has had a long experience in the government, chiefly in the U. S. Housing Authority. A liberal, Keyserling frequently disagrees with more conservative Chairman Nourse.

John D. Clark, a native of Colorado, and former economics professor at the University of Nebraska and the University of Denver. Clark usually lines up with liberal Keyserling.

However, the council has composed its differences to recommend a program to President Truman which it regards as absolutely essential to block depression. While all three agree, Dr. Nourse considers the voluntary phase of the program more important, but Keyserling and Clark, though not disagreeing, would place more emphasis on the government phase. The program which Nourse considers most important is:

Farmers—Convince farmers to grow bigger crops and accept somewhat lower support prices, thereby reducing the consumers' food bill, but continuing a reasonable return for farmers.

Business—Sell businessmen on lower profits per item, thereby getting greater volume and continued reasonable profits.

Labor—Persuade labor leaders not to seek wage increases that will throw the economy out of gear.

* * *

Government Remedies

THE Clark-Keyserling group, while agreeing with the above, gravely doubts the government's ability to "persuade" business, farmers and labor. Therefore, they put more emphasis on hard - and - fast government incentives which would prop up the economy regardless of persuasion. They propose:

1. Increased social security benefits to take care of unemployed and the aged. Present old-age pensions are woefully low and unemployment benefits last only a brief interval after unemployment starts.

2. Increase minimum wages to 75 cents. This is aimed at increasing buying power in the lower brackets.

At present, union labor's constant round of wage demands has put organized labor far ahead of the great mass of unskilled and unorganized labor. One sure way to prevent depression is to promote buying power by lower income groups.

3. Low-cost housing, built through government subsidies. This also helps to provide work.

4. Aid to education. This would increase teachers' salaries and provide new schoolhouse construction.

5. Stockpiling critical materials. This is not only an essential safeguard in case of war, but the buying of raw materials helps to bolster sagging economy.

Dr. Nourse agrees that this phase of the program also is essential to prevent otherwise inevitable depression in 1950 or 1951.

Frankly Speaking

The Two Ways of Life

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON.—In the midst of a Senate debate a question arose about a book, "Lessons of the Last Decade," written 20 years ago by Paul H. Douglas, now Democratic senator from Illinois.

To be sure it was quoted the way he wanted it quoted, Douglas, serving his first year in the Senate, got up and read some of the book himself.

What Douglas read was his philosophy on the difference between the long-run benefits of democracy and the long-run dangers of communism.

Douglas, 57, and a well-known economist, believes that a good society is best reached by peaceful means and that communism, achieved by conspiracy and violence, ends in tyranny and degeneracy of government.

* * *

Difference In Methods.

HE STATED his position—which is the position of democratic thinkers of the West—so clearly, that some of what he said is given here:

"Even if the communists were to seize power, their work of government would inevitably be poisoned by the methods used in attaining it.

"Their opponents would naturally be driven to resort to that same method of violent revolution which the communists had embraced.

"The communists would, therefore, need constantly to be on their guard against an armed uprising led by those who had enjoyed greater economic and social privileges under the former regime.

"They would, moreover, suspect such revolts even when not planned and the inevitable result would be the permeation of society by a state system of espionage and the ruthless use of terror as a means of intimidation.

"Such an atmosphere of suspicion and suppression would go far to vitiate the very spirit of cooperative fellowship which the communists hope to engender by running the industries and government of a country for the benefit of the common man.

"The disdain which the communists have for the intelligence and courage of the majority leads them, moreover, to keep power in the hands of their aggressive minority.

"Their venture seems to them the supreme value and they are naturally unwilling to entrust it to that amorphous mass of people who did nothing to bring it into being. Only those who have sacrificed themselves for the new society are adjudged worthy of directing it.

"They will govern and work for the benefit of the people but not allow the latter to participate in the ultimate decisions of policy. In short, they will hold on to power for themselves. . .

"The truth of the matter is that, whenever men are removed from the bracing necessity of submitting their acts and policies to the approval of the great mass in whose behalf they are supposed to be laboring, they tend to degenerate. . ."

Then, shifting to the problem of leadership in a democracy, Douglas said:

"The knowledge that they must secure popular support makes leaders more solicitous than they otherwise would be to further the real interests of those upon whose approval their continuance in office depends.

"For these reasons, the democratic way of life is ultimately the best method of obtaining good government while, as John Stuart Mill long ago pointed out, it is also the most effective means of raising the level of civic intelligence."

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, Robert Mitchum is out of the hoosegow and you might get the idea from his photographic poses and statements that he was one of the great martyrs of history, just having sacrificed himself for a great cause.

* * *

I gather that he is prepared to forgive everybody if he gets sufficient applause, satisfactory scripts, adequate lighting on the marquees and enough press notices.

* * *

It almost seemed funny that his release was not accompanied by the usual Hollywood credit lines for incidental music, sound effects and extra dialogue.

* * *

Mitchum took his medicine and did his bit. He is entitled to a fresh start, but does it have to be in technicolor with special attention to the children's trade?

Farmer's Diary

Learn How To Work

By CALVIN A. BYERS

ELBERT HUBBARD said: "In useful work there is no degree. That which is necessary is sacred and nothing else is!"

Hubbard's philosophy on work: "Work is for the Worker. Can you afford to shirk or make believe or do slipshod evasive work? No, because what the world thinks and says about you is really no matter, but what you think and what you do are vital as Fate."

* * *

I THINK sometimes that we have failed to educate our young folks to respect callouses. . . in the right places. If I had my way, I would make it necessary for every high school graduate to learn the basic principles of agriculture and have practical experience in working on the land before receiving a diploma. Or else I would require him to learn some other valuable trade.

A really educated person uses all of himself wisely—and can go from working with his hands to working with his brain, finding recreation in the change. Versatility is to be commended—not at the expense of thoroughness in fundamentals.

"There is a dignity and even a divinity in labor. The apostles were laboring men. Jesus was a carpenter—but something more."

I talked with a bright man the other day. He works in a local shop. Beyond middle age, his heavy hands have fingers darkened and soiled by constant grease and grime. His face is wrinkled and puckered, but his eyes are bright and alive.

He lives in a neat little house at the outskirts of town, and his premises prove that he is an artist at heart, as well as a skilled artisan.

"You must have grown up on a farm," I said to him.

"That's right," he said, his face lighting up. "I got all the way to $10 a month, and board for awhile—but I learned a lot. Then my wife, she worked as a hired girl on a farm for $3 a week. That was in Grover Cleveland's time—people in the cities were going hungry. We both know what hard work means. By comparison, my present job's a cinch!"

"How long have you been at that same shop?"

"Thirty years. . . wife says I'm gettin' lazy because about all I do now is inspect and oversee. But seems like I'm still needed—anyway they keep me at it."

"The reason why is written on your face," I told him. "You're honest and you insist on a thorough job."

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THERE will be eclipses of the sun and moon this month but we'll be too busy watching John L. Lewis to look up.

* * *

How do we know we're not potential material for District 50 if we don't keep our eyes at Lewis-level?

* * *

In fact when the sun and moon are blacked out he's apt to hand a miner's lamp and dues card to any citizen overheard saying "It's as dark as a coal mine."

* * *

You know Mr. Lewis is on the move again toward his goal of an enlarged personal labor empire and this time he hopes to make it by cab . . . Naturally when he steps in a cab the flag goes down.

* * *

Anyway the total eclipse of the moon is April 12, partial eclipse of the sun April 28 . . . and still no sign of eclipse of Lewis whole or partial.

Red Cross Fund Drive Near Goal

$47,471 Reported; More Units Over Top

Red Cross campaign workers were nearing the goal of $48,836 today as a total of $47,471.61 was reported from the chapter house.

This included the $7,361.56 reported by Shelby Saturday, more than $800 over that city's goal.

Campaign officials said today that the remainder of the goal is in sight. They are just waiting for it to be reported and turned in at the chapter house. It is expected by Wednesday at the latest that Mansfield and Richland county will have gone over the top in the 1949 drive for memberships.

Five townships were reported as having exceeded their goals. These include: Jefferson, Harley Beal, chairman, quota $120, receipts $123; Weller, Mrs. Ralph Oswalt, chairman, quota, $218, receipts, $226.10.

Mrs. R. D. Hutchinson of Plymouth township reported receipts totaling $178.50 with a quota of $166. L. L. Rinehart of Sandusky township turned in $132 with a quota of $116, and Mrs. L. T. Maxwell of Troy township turned in $100. The quota had been $93.

KILLED BY SHOCK

RIPLEY — (AP) — Franklin J. (Bud) Berry, 24, was killed Saturday when he touched a live wire while working on a utility pole.

HEADS PHYSICIANS — President-elect at the 30th annual meeting of the American College of Physicians, underway in New York, is Dr. Reginald Ritz, Harvard Medical school. Reports on recent advances in medicine are being exchanged by 4,000 at the meeting. (International)

Tax Collections In County Climb

County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said $5,949 in general and $5,874 in classified personal property taxes were collected Saturday.

That brings the total to $114,535 in general and $116,679 in classified taxes collected so far for the first-half period. Last day for paying without peanlty is April 10.

Membership List Filling

Applications for new memberships in Mansfield's Civic Music association vied with membership renewals at noon today as the membership list filled rapidly.

Officials of the association said the campaign, which so far has shown one of the smallest turnovers of memberships in history, will close at 6 p. m. today.

Campaign headquarters were opened early today in the basement of the Gas company building.

Officials said 780 memberships have been received in the early mail campaign. Old members who have not returned their renewal cards will be contacted before deadline today.

Very few cancellations of memberships have been received, officials said. However, they estimated that approximately 125 new members will be added to the 1949-'50 season list.

Swing Clubs At Strikers

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Deputy sheriffs and policemen swung clubs freely today in a fight with 300 marching strikers and sympathizers at the Fawick Airflex company. Four pickets were arrested and several others were injured slightly.

In the fourth scuffle in the month-long strike, the authorities acted when the marchers started across a line drawn by the sheriff marking a "no man's land."

This zone was around the plant entrance. Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney wanted it left open so back-to-work employes could enter. The march was stopped and the employes got in.

Chicago Paper Strike Goes On

CHICAGO — (UP) — Union rejection of a "final" offer today wiped out hopes for any immediate settlement of the 17-month-old strike by AFL typesetters against Chicago newspapers.

The union announced yesterday that its members had rejected by a vote of 1,266 to 93 the $10 wage increase and other contract proposals offered by the publishers.

'Mother of 1949'

CLEVELAND —(AP)—Mrs. Sally Schmidt of Garfield Heights has been chosen Ohio's mother of 1949. She will compete for American mother of 1949 in the annual contest of the Golden Rule Foundation of New York. She is the wife of Leo W. Schmidt, a contractor, and is the mother of three sons.

Registrations Gain a Little

Thirty-one persons had registered or transferred their registrations this morning with the Richland county board of elections. This is the last day for registering to vote in the May 3 Mansfield city primary.

Two extra clerks worked today, filling out cards for last-minute registrants.

Thomas R. Zeigler, board clerk, said the board offices would close at the regular time, 4 p. m., but persons there at that time will be given the opportunity to register.

Moose Election Slated Tuesday

Election of officers will be held at the Moose Lodge, 131 North Walnut street, at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Offices to be filled include those of lodge governor, junior governor, treasurer, prelate, and one trustee. Installation of new officers will take place at a meeting April 26.

A lunch will be served following the election Tuesday.

480 Phones Out

GRAND RAPIDS—(UP)—A fire caused by a defective furnace put 480 telephones out of commission here last night when the blaze virtually destroyed the exchange occupied by the Northern Ohio Bell Telephone company.

BEAUTY WINNER — Giving you her best smile, pretty Marilyn Overby of Gainesville, Fla., is shown after she was chosen "Miss All - American College Freshman." Tavern Shut Temporarily

"The most troublesome place in Ashland county has been closed," Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod declared last night.

The officer's statement followed the closing of Aero Tavern, scene of a pitched knife battle Friday night.

The tavern, located on Savannah road, will be reopened Wednesday night unless state liquor officials intervene, he added. The brief shutdown was described by Sheriff Rickenbrod as "disciplinary" action.

He added that he has been called to the tavern three or four times since Jan. 1 and declared the inn caused "more trouble than any other place in Ashland county."

White vigorously denied the allegation. He testified he "was not a drinking man."

White said the humiliation of being "thrown in jail with a bunch of howling, raving drunks where he caught a cold should be punishment enough."

Police Chief Dies

ALLIANCE — (AP) — Harry L. Stark, police chief here since 1927, died yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 62 and had been on the force since 1914.

Stark is survived by the widow and four children. He was born in Massillon.

Sharp Rise In Oil Shares Turns Stock Market Higher

NEW YORK — (UP) — A sharp rise in oil shares turned the stock market higher today before noon after a steady start.

Gains in the oil group ranged to 3 points in Amerada corporation with Plymouth oil up 2 and gains of a point on Standard (N. J.) and Ohio oil.

The gold shares, up sharply late last week in response to new and equally uninformed rumors of an impending price rise, turned lower.

Nickel Plate gained a point in the rails. U. S. Steel and Younstown Sheet and Tube were higher in the steel section. Du Pont rose more than a point in the chemicals.

Chrysler and General Motors corporation were firm in spite of new talk of growing sales resistance and probable widescale price cuts, implemented by the week-end slash announced by the Ford motor company.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!

Many wise 'middle-age' women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.

Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

NOTE: Or you may prefer LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S TABLETS with added iron.

MANSFIELDERS TO ATTEND METROPOLITAN OPERA

Many Local Musicians and Music Lovers Hold Tickets for Cleveland Performances

MANSFIELDERS have been treking to Cleveland for many years to attend the Metropolitan Opera and this year is no exception. Today many of the city's finest musiciains will be present for the opening performances at Public Hall.

Those ticket-holders for tonight's opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor" by Donizetto, and starring Lily Pons, are Donald Fatkin, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stauffer, Mrs W. J. Hazeltine, Mrs. Vicki Williams, Mrs. Margaret Hall, Miss Louise Krause, Miss Anna Lois Dietrichson, George Miller, Harold Robeson, Miss Lura Brown, Mrs. Richard Taylor, Mrs. Glen Taylor, Mrs. George Conant, Mrs. Martin Pahls, Mrs. Karl Maul, Mrs. Jay Chubbs, Mrs. O. F. Shively, Mrs. Bruce Rogers, Mrs. M E. Pingel, Mrs. Richard Hammeli, Mrs. John Hoffman, Miss Eleanor Wilcox, Mrs. Harold Bensinger. Mrs. Bert Phaler, Mrs. J. D. Wilcox, Mrs E. M Trout and Mrs. Richard Stofer.

Season ticket holders are Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huston, Miss Myrtle Booth, Mrs. Falsom Teeters and Mrs. Mary Berry of Lexington.

With repertoire and stars seldom, if ever before gathered together in one week of opera, the Met will open its 24th Cleveland season tonight.

Tomorrow evening Ambroise Thomas' "Mignon" will star Rise Stevens, Patrice Munsel and many others of note. This opera was last sung in Cleveland in 1944 and its new production in the Metropolitan repertoire, was made possible by a gift from the Northern Ohio Opera Association, sponsors of the Cleveland season.

Four of the operas, tonight's, Tuesday's, "La Traviata" and "Rigoletto" will bring the famed Metropolitan Opera Ballet with Boris Romanoff as choreographer, to the Public Hall stage. Stars with the ballet are Marina Svetlova, premiere danseuse, Aida Alvarez, guest soloist, and Leon Varkas, premier danseur.

On Tuesday evening Mansfielders who will attend include Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cahall, Mr. and Mrs Charles Fox, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stauffer, Mrs. M. H. Pryor and sons, Mr. and Mrs. David Weaver, Miss Charlotte Nusbaum, Richard Maurer, Mrs. Iona Pifer, Miss Carolyn Pifer, Miss Martha Shank, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Mohican Club Given Program

The Mohican Garden club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Vaughn Thompson, 671 Highland avenue. A dessert luncheon was served from the dining room table, tastefully decoarated with daffodils.

Mrs. James Rice, the president, conducted the business meeting after which the program was under the supervision of Mrs. H. H. Princehorn The topic, "Color Schemes and Succession of Bloom" was presented by Mrs. William Black jr. She illustrated her talk with pictures and ended it by presenting each member with a bloom calendar which listed flowers for the different seasons.

Looking Through . . .

The Fashion Spy Glass

The new slips, we've seen, come in the most delicious sophisticated colors. No more of this "wishy washy" pink and white, my lady, but dark browns, wine, forest green, bright red, and navy blue for your lingerie. In half slips we saw a beautiful pearl grey and deep orchid. These were all in taffeta and sell for the very reasonable price of $3.95. And that's not all—they come with adjustable bottoms. That is, there are three little tiers on the bottom of the slips and you can snip if you're short or bless them all if you're tall.

We hear that dresses are going to start to creep up higher again next year but with these slips you won't have to worry about hems. All you need is a pair of scissors and there's no hemming to do after you've snipped because every tier is finished beautifully.

There's good news for the addicts of short pajamas. You'll want several of the light blue jersey ones we saw with little white hearts on them. They are as light as a breeze and just as cool and they sell for only $2.95. The night shirts are cuter this year too, ranging from $3.95 to $5.95 in the stores we visited. the one we liked best was in canary yellow with a big peter pan collar and a tiny pocket. It falls just below the knee and also comes in orchid, green mist and pink.

There are new slips with the plunging neckline to accomodate your new dressy dresses with the open necks. These slips sell for $7.95 and come in almost any shade. Altogether we're glad lingerie is getting so color conscious.

If you would like to know where to buy any of the items we've mentioned, call Joan Schweitz at the News-Journal.

OUR Club Closes Season; Child Study Club Fetes Fathers

THE ANNUAL FORMAL spring dinner dance of OUR club was held Saturday evening in the Mansfield-Leland hotel ball room with seventy couples in attendance.

Dinner was served buffet style with the ballroom and serving table decorated with flower pots filled with geraniums. The flower pots were presented to each of the guests as a favor.

Music was provided by Denny Thompson and his orchestra. They are currently playing an engagement at the Mayflower hotel in Akron. Exhibition dances of a rhumba, tango and waltz were given by members of the Arthur Murray Dance studio.

The committee in charge of the dance was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Henkel. The others were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Lusignan and Mr. and Mrs. Watson E. Slabaugh.

A large cocktail party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman, 560 Overlook road, prior to the dance. There were nineteen members present, including two couples from out of town, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Langhammer of Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reiser, of Ashland.

Child Study club members held their annual Father's Night party Saturday evening at the Mohican Sailing club with gay informality the theme of the event. The group and their nine guests spent the evening square dancing, with the broom dance, Virginia reel and many other special dances in swing.

Guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wixon, Mrs. Virginia Green, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Masquelier, Mr. and Mrs. George Gaalaas and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Devers.

Mrs. J. J. Kindel was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Ted Banks and Mrs. Ruhland Isaly.

Mr and Mrs. Esley Cleckner called for dancing. Later a box lunch was enjoyed in the clubrooms, with partners found by matching picture puzzles.

The next meeting will be held April 26 at the home of Mrs. W. J. Robbins, 584 Barnard avenue, with Mrs. Donald Sharp associate hostess. Rabbi Moshe Goldblum will be the guest speaker at that time.

Colorful Salads Make Spring Menus Perk Up Appetites

Crisp, colorful salads go hand in hand with spring weather, and nowadays it's no trick at all to turn out foods that are gay and festive to gaze upon as well as appetizing and nutritious to eat. We're thinking especially of the delicious and decorative salads that can be made with fragrant fresh apples, because right now the markets are featuring the spicy, red-coated Washington Winesaps which are ideal for salad-making. Combined with other fruits, cheese or vegetables, the Winesap variety has a distinctive, tangy flavor and crackling texture that makes a real taste contribution to your salad, and don't be fazed if the apples seem small in size, for the quality is excellent, and these "schoolboy" sizes are a good economy buy.

LIME APPLE CHEESE SALAD
(Serves 6)

6 medium Winesap apples
1 cup water
1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup cottage cheese

Prepare applesauce by washing and coring apples. It is not necessary to pare. Cut apples into eights and add just enough water to steam the fruit and keep from burning. Cook apples until soft, then force through sieve. Dissolve gelatin in water according to package directions. Fold in 2 cups applesauce and cottage cheese. Pour into individual molds. Place in refrigerator and chill until firm. Unmold and serve on lettuce leaves, topped with mayonnaise.

APPLE AND KIDNEY BEAN
(Serves 6)

2-¼ cups kidney beans, cooked, drained
¼ cup Winesap apple, diced
½ cup cabbage, chopped
½ tsp. salt
Mayonnaise

Combine beans, apple, cabbage, salt and mayonnaise to moisten. Serve on crisp salad greens.

ORANGE APPLE SALAD
(Serves 6)

2 oranges
2 Winesap apples
Chopped Walnuts

Wash, dry and dice red Winesap apples into a salad-bowl. Grate the orange peel over the apple, then peel the oranges and dice with apples. Sprinkle chopped walnuts over fruit, toss with salad dressing and serve on crisp greens.

Always have a wedding ring engraved on the inside with initials of the bride and groom and the wedding date. Such engravings are done by the jeweler at nominal cost, whether the ring is gold, platinum or palladium.

Elegant but easy on the budget and suitable for Lent, is this molded salad loaf. It combines cottage cheese, a first class dairy food, with California cling peaches; and it's served with sour cream dressing and crisp rye wafers.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Tuesday, April 5

AN uncertain and complicated state of affairs may be swerved to safe and saner foundations by a determined effort to properly manipulate basic facts, with realism and far vision with regard to future security and enduring values. Erratic movements, nervous tension and bad judgment could but add to the stressful and critical situation. Sound tactics and studied decisions might avert dangers and involved denouements. "Make haste slowly," cautiously.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves confronted by an uncertain and unsettled state of affairs, in which it may be difficult to make sane and safe decisions in a critical situation. A false move, erroneous judgments, an erratic or flighty state of mind could prove detrimental to important plans. However, the mentality is prone to be serious, with ability to plumb the depths of peculiar circumstances, in which major change may be up for decision. It might be desirable to postpone important objectives until time may help to clear up an involved predicament. Move carefully in all directions.

A child born on this day, while prone to be nervous, erratic and flighty as well, has depths of analysis and character to help it over strange or difficult places in life.

Mother Presents Idea For Child's Wall Decoration

How delighted would your children be to have their favorite story-book character as "big as life" on the nursery wall? You can give them just that and without ever taking a drawing lesson. The April issue of House Beautiful magazine shows a simple way to transpose an illustration by means of a grid chart.

The article was written by a mother who explains that "the children's room is small and dark, so we decided to decorate its walls with a design which would give color and a feeling of spaciousness. We found just what we wanted," the mother continues, "in a picture the children loved of Wee Willie Winkie, running pell-mell over a cobblestone street through a town of crooked, fairy-tale houses. It was good for our purpose because of its gaiety and perspective."

Three sketches accompany the article to illustrate the technique of transposing the picture, and a photograph shows the finished mural masterpiece.

Commercial airliners now are flying the North Atlantic 246 times a week, the latest industry figures reveal.

Suggestions for Garden Wedding

For a garden wedding, deck the ruffly rim of an organdy parasol with dainty buds, and have your bridesmaids carry flowers this way, instead of the traditional arm bouquet, suggests the April issue of CHARM, the Magazine for the Business Girl.

If the cermony is to be held with a rose arbor as a backdrop, take an unblocked hat of natural straw, and tack wide ribbons to the crown, CHARM suggests. Carry the hat upside down, filled to the brim with fresh flowers. As another novel idea, you might wear a band of flowers in your hair. Match it with blossoms stitched single file around a pair of pastel gloves.

PERFECT GIFT

A square hatbox that will hold six of her very best bonnets and a half-dozen pair of shoes to boot, is the perfect gift for the Spring bride in your family, says the April "Beauty and Brides" issue of CHARM, the Magazine for the Business Girl. Of brown leather-bound canvas, the luggage has rubber shock-absorber edges, and it is practical for land, sea, or air travel.

April Time To Prune June Roses

While it's true as well as poetic that April showers bring May flowers, it's just as true, although more prosaic, that April pruning has plenty to do with the quality of your June roses.

An article on How To Prune Your Rose Bushes, says that the time for pruning is the moment the bush shows signs of growing. The magazine's rose expert figures that, in most parts of the country, this should occur during early April.

"If your rose bushes were left entirely unpruned" the article explains, "you would have awkward, leggy plants with slender, twiggy growth which would produce small flowers of very inferior quality. . .Judicious pruning restores fresh vigor to the plant by encouraging new and stronger growth."

SESSION SCHEDULED

The Woman's Society of World Service of the First Evangelical United Brethren church will meet in the church social rooms Wednesday afternoon at 1:30. The program is in charge of Mrs. M. R. Hopper and her committee. The guest speaker will be Mrs. I. E. Oberholtzer, former missionary to China.

A man wears his wedding ring on the third finger, right hand, as a sign of authority over his wife. Worn on the traditional left hand, it is a token of loving submission.

Help Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways with WONDER BREAD!

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish In Certain Growth And Energy-Building Contents (as stated above)

Without protein no child can grow in body or brain. Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

These foods are good for protein: Meat, Milk, Fish, Eggs, Nuts. And Wonder Bread.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child 46% more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs.

Better For Energy Than Potatoes

Without energy no child can work, study or play. Potatoes are good for energy. So is Wonder Bread.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child more energy than potatoes. And is better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways

The chart above shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread. Serve Wonder Bread together with fruits, vegetables, meat, milk, fish and eggs in a well-balanced diet. Give your child every chance to build body and brain. 8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. Certainly you can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it: fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

TIME TEARS ON

Folks who are not awake to changes miss much in these days of progress in science and industry.

In food you can be missing plenty. You may have served the same bread because you didn't know about the remarkable improvements in famous Wonder Bread.

Because our laboratories and our food scientists are working all the time to make Wonder Bread better, millions of mothers are saying, "It's the finest bread we've ever had and I wish we had discovered Wonder Bread sooner."

So don't delay. Change today to this popular Wonder Bread. It builds strong bodies 8 ways.

Advises 'Mrs.' Heart' to Travel Around World, View Its Wonders

TO "MRS. HEART," General Delivery, Oklahoma City: The newspapers say you are a middle-aged widow, dying of ticker trouble. And you have asked for advice on how to spend the last year of your life—and the $10,000 you have.

Don't worry. You'll get plenty of advice. And most of the letters will end up with a request for some of your $10,000.

I've got an idea for you, too.

You say you want a plan or a purpose. You say everything you think of seems "silly or useless." And you are lonely, and the doctor's death sentence—"prognosis, unfavorable"—has left you with "a reckless kind of feeling."

Well, Mrs. Heart, why don't you do something that many might regard as silly, reckless and perhaps useless? Death is a voyage of discovery. Why don't you make the last months of your life a voyage of discovery, too?

You've provided for your daughter out of the moderate fortune you built as a business woman after your husband died in the first World war. That leaves you with no family responsibility. For the first time in your life you are footloose and fancy free.

Since you are going soon on a long journey alone not of your choosing, why don't you go on a long journey now of your own choice—around the world? And share it. Take along as a companion a poor young girl or boy of character and promise. Be that young person's window to the wonders and tragedies of earth, and you will live longer than you think. For no one dies who is remembered gratefully.

There is so much to see and learn, and no reason ever to stop learning. They say Goethe found a fresh new world by taking up the study of Greek at 80.

Where to go? Only a year—and a world to view.

Go first to England and France and look at their famous cathedrals by dawn and twilight. These tall towers of the spirit have eased many hearts through centuries.

If your husband was killed in France, go see where he fell and how time heals the countryside. Then go to war-marked Berlin. Watch the old women as they stand in the rubble of their homes, salvaging unbroken bricks and passing them along the human chain of rubble with a "Danke Schoen" and a "Bitte Schoen"—"thank you," "You're welcome." This sight will teach you what your husband's death helped prevent happening to this country.

See Italy for sure, Mrs. Heart. It has a warmth you'll like. Go to the Isle of Capri and sit at an ourdoor cafe and watch the sweep of light and shadow across Naples bay. There are people who have spent their whole lives watching the play of light and shadow on Naples bay — and never felt restless. The Emperor Tiberius gave up the court of Rome for that tremendous view.

Visit the Holy Land, and see the old ache and new hope there in that flowering desert of ancient awe. You say travel by plane doesn't make you ill any more? Then ride a camel around the pyramids outside Cairo and know the strange experience of being seasick on dry land.

There's India, old as the eldest God, fresh as revolution. The shriveled, sightless beggars crawling on the sidewalks of Calcutta will make you appreciate your own thrifty foresight.

And then China, where civil war, poverty, wealth — and a sense of humor — have existed as long as men have put seeds into the earth. And Japan, where defeat wears an endless grin. And the Philippines, where the brown race won by grant the liberty it is seeking to win on other islands by the gun.

End up, Mrs. Heart, by going around America, broad enough for all the virtues — and the vices — of the rest of the world. But you'll know by then where it is fine, where it fails.

You'll have eaten strange food and seen strange ways. You'll have made your journey to Mecca, for Mecca today is the world village groping for peace and order. Your $10,000 will be gone, your year will be up — but death won't seem so new or strange.

For you will have known life, full circle. And there will be one behind to remember what you so kindly shared.

Forrestal's Medal, Resignation Prove to Be Talk of the Town

NEW YORKERS ARE TALKING ABOUT . . .

That Distinguished Service Medal the President pinned on the departing ex-Defense Secretary Forrestal. If (as the President said) the man rated it for "the great job he did for the nation," then why did Truman accept the resignation Forrestal was "forced" into offering? He didn't want to resign! Such sham, hmf.

When the Dept. of Justice is going to decide whether or not the Nat'l Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions (which just hosted Shostakovich) is a Front group or ain't. It'll do as a Front until (as the wisecrack goes) a better one comes along.

The devastating comment of a guest at the Henry Luce luncheon to Mr. Churchill, who spoke very briefly. But Gov. Dewey droned on for nearly 40 minutes.

"Wonder why Churchill was so short?" a guest inquired. "He probably," sarcasm'd another, "was trying to show the Governor that he could stand on his record."

Gen. Vaughan's unconcern about the housing shortage. Naturally, it's "not his table". . . The way Jane Wyman's latest flicker drew critical blackballs the day after she was decorated with the Academy Award. Reminding you that you are merely as good as your scenarist and director.

Marlene Dietrich's throaty version of the recorded ditty, "Peter." She gives it the Kinsey-touch. . .The beguiling songs in Bing's "A Connecticut Yankee"—especially the one christened: "When Is Sometime?" A lovely hymn. . .The fact that housemaids—once scarcer than uranium—are now having trouble finding jobs.

Prices being whittled here and slashed there. The Automat, frinstance, just announced another 30 per cent shave in some edibles. Fees for male toggery have also taken a terrific cut.

Look's attention - arresting cover of FDR. . .The pretty Spring get-ups on display in the 5th Avenue shop-windows—to spellbind the shopulation. . .The The eyebrow-raiser dug up by a Washington reporter—that Section 605 of the Communications Act plainly prohibits wire-tapping by gov't or private persons. Oh, man! Is that Broady in trouble!

The swiftest nifty in Reader's Digest, "It isn't what girls know that bothers parents. It's how they found it out."

How come the New York newspapers didn't publish any part of this blast from the Kremlin - controlled Literary Gazette? United Press cabled it from Moscow March 26th: "The notorious pen - gangster from the Hearst band and radio liar Walter Winchell long tried to threaten the participants, transparently hinting that the Fascist American Legion would picket the Waldorf-Astoria.

Winchell wrote and the State Department acted. Secretary of State Acheson then refused to admit French and British progressive leaders"

The way the worried gov't officials are now calling the soon-due German Industries Fair (in N. Y.) "The U. S. Military Gov't Fair," to frighten away pickets, who want to picket because they know it is really a Fair for Nazi Businessmen. . .The many actors and musicians (now touring Germany to amuse our troops) who report in letters: "Germans will tell you there are more Nazis now than before!"

HOPES TO WALK AGAIN—Susan Kiley, 2, encased in a cast up to her chest, plays happily with toys in her crib at home in North Arlington, N. J., after leaving Presbyterian hospital where she had undergone an operation to correct a bowed leg with which she was born. Surgeons have taken a five-inch piece of bone from the leg of her father, William Kiley, and transferred it to the bowed limb hoping that Susan may be running around again in about a year.

Five-State Security Group Urged

Auxiliary Units Hear Patrol Head

Approximately 25 members of Richland county's auxiliary highway patrol heard Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, call for a five-state "Security and Preparedness' program in Columbus yesterday.

Col. Mingle told the auxiliary yesterday at its fifth annual assembly at Columbus the American Legion, co-sponsor of the auxiliary, is interested in extending its activities on a national scale.

So far, Ohio is the first state in the nation to have reorganized its auxiliary patrol, organized during the war. State membership in the state auxiliary now numbers more than 3,000 men. A new class of auxiliary members, graduated here recently, brings the membership in the county to 56.

Col. Mingle said the proposed emergency program was jointly outlined by himself and by Perry Brown, national commander of the Legion who was in Columbus recently to see the auxiliary at work. He said Brown was impressed by the showing and agreed to hold a conference in May to plan local groups for five neighboring states.

The head of Ohio's Highway Patrol compared the auxiliary group to the civilian defense program in the country during World War III.

The auxiliary's two-day meeting also heard Toledo Blade Editor-in-Chief Grove Patterson, and State Highway Director T. J. Kauer.

Col. D. L. Sears, Toledo attorney, was elected a member of the advisory council to succeed Joseph Patterson, of Findlay, who resigned.

State Lets Contracts

The state highway department has announced awarding of contracts for road projects in the Mansfield area on bids received at a highway sale last Tuesday.

Edgar Spring Inc., of New Philadelphia was awarded a contract for $48,970 for widening and resurfacing U. S. Route 62 in Holmes county.

Another contract to the same company calls for bituminous treatment of 5.1 miles of State Route 151 in Holmes, Harrison and Tuscarawas counties at a cost of $55,521.

The Spring company also received a contract for $47,260 for applying bituminous treatment to 4.12 miles of State Route 271 in Knox and Licking counties.

Claude Britton, of Galion, was awarded a contract for grading and resurfacing .19 of a mile of State Route 90 in Ashtabula country, constructing three concrete slab bridges on that highway, on his bid of $55,886.

The Fenton Construction company, of Ashland, was awarded a contract for bituminous treatment of 6.5 miles of State Route 141 in Gallia and Meigs counties on its bid of $75,488.

Find Bundle Of Clothing

A package, containing more than $20 worth of men's and children's clothing, and believed by police to have been shoplifted from Mansfield merchants, was turned over to police late Saturday by officials of the Martin Hardware company.

Police based the shoplifting theory on the fact that no sales slips or tax stamps were found in the package. Contents of the package were distributed to the Montgomery Ward store, Maxwell's, and Neisner's. Martin Hardware officials said the package had been left in the store about two weeks ago and was unclaimed.

Officers said the package contained a girl's snowsuit, two men's work shirts, children's mittens and a man's handkerchief.

Settle Taylor Metal Suit

Parties Agree In Partnership Action

An action by Jack Port, of Shiloh, against Glenn W., and Richard G. Taylor, the Taylor Metal Products company, and Voisard, Inc., Shiloh, has been settled and the case dismissed in common pleas court.

Port sought to compel the defendants to sell him one-third of the shares of the Voisard firm and to have a receiver appointed to handle the Voisard affairs.

He contended that when the Taylors took over the company he was to receive a salary plus one-third of the profits or have the right to buy one-third of the stock to release them from an agreement he had with the former owners. Port said he had been discharged by the firm.

The defendants said they agreed to give him 25 per cent of the earnings and he was discharged because of his activities in attempting to set up a partnership for a competing firm.

Edward M. and Frederick R. Gabriel, of 409 West Fifth street, filed separate answers, denying that they maliciously assaulted Frank Piacent, 413 West Fifth street, as alleged in his suit for $1,500 damages. They ask that the suit be dismissed.

J. Schneider Dies at Age 77

Jacob Schneider, 77, died this morning at the Foulks Rest Home after an illness of three days.

Mr. Schneider was born July 26, 1871 in Austria-Hungary, coming to Mansfield 42 years ago. For a number of years he operated a laundry on Poplar street. Later he was engaged in truck farming, retiring in 1942.

He was a member of the St. Paul Lutheran church.

Surviving are six children, Chris Schneider and Mrs. William Ekey of Ashland; Jacob jr., of Highland Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Joseph Sperzel, Joseph J. Schneider and Frank C. Schneider, all of Mansfield; and nine grandchildren.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 3:30 p. m., Wednesday with Rev. John G. Gensel officiating. Burial will be the Mansfield cemetery.

City First Stop On All-Ohio Air Tour

About 75 airplanes will roar into Mansfield the morning of July 23.

A. Clayton, Tschantz, Richland Aviation Inc., manager, announced today the All-Ohio Air Tour has chosen Mansfield as its first stop on its week-long tour of Ohio and adjoining states.

The tour is sponsored annually by the Cleveland Junior Chamber of Commerce. Robert Burns, chairman of the local Jaycee aviation committee, and his committee will make arrangements to greet the pilots.

No definite plans have been made yet by the local group but in former years the city has elected a tour queen and staged a dinner for the visiting fliers.

The members of the tour will meet in Cleveland, then make flights to airfields all over Ohio and in Indiana and Michigan.

Keith Bryan, chairman of the Cleveland Junior Chamber, will be chairman of the tour.

4-H Members Install Staff

New officers of the Future Homemakers 4-H club were installed at a candlelight ceremony at the home of Miss Norma Bishop, Beal road, yesterday. The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Harold Tingley, club adviser.

Miss Bishop gave a demonstration on cosmetics, and Miss Mary Hill demonstrated how to make artificial flowers.

The devotion period was in charge of Mrs. Norma Wilson, chaplain. Taking part were Miss Ruth Hagerman, Miss Doris Sprang, and Mrs. Margaret Hill.

The four Casler sisters, Juanita, Ruth, Phyllis, and Shirley, sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hill at 7 p. m. April 21.

Show Tomorrow

The Warrendale "Marionettes" will be presented tomorrow at the John Simpson junior high school. This is one of the activities programs presented at intervals to junior high pupils.

Vets Get Pension Data

Members of the Mansfield DAV Chapter and other Mansfield vets gathered in the DAV club rooms yesterday for a round-table discussion of Veteran's pension claims.

J. L. Trott, national DAV service officer and affiliated with the Cleveland Veterans Administration, led the forum.

Trott outlined the ways for a veteran to speed up pension applications and spent three hours with more than 20 vets explaining the complicated VA procedures connected with claims.

The DAV's proposed softball team, to have been formed at the meeting, is scheduled to be organized at the next meeting, April 17.

Burglars Obtain Little Cash Loot

Burglars got only a little more than $2 in bills and some change when they broke into the Pontiac Sales and Service company, 22 East Second street, Saturday night.

A window on the south side of the garage had been broken and unlocked, police reported. The lock on a large side door was broken. The money was in a small cardboard container.

'AIR LIFT' IN REVERSE

Mansfield witnessed the Air Forces' famed "air-lift" in reverse yesterday. Nineteen planes flew into the Municipal airport for their crews' morning ham and eggs. No food was brought in to supplement Mansfield's supply as is being done in Berlin. Richland Aviation Manager A. Clayton Tschantz said 14 planes from Toledo and five from Columbus landed at the field for Sunday breakfast. As many as four persons were aboard some of the ships.

★

LI'L BIRD DOOD IT —

A new vacation hazard has been reported by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rossborough, former Mansfielders, who discovered a bird had got into their home in Cleveland while they were in Florida. The bird had raised general havoc in the Rossboroughs' home in their absence. All drapes had to be sent to the cleaners. The Rossboroughs have cancelled their membership in the Audubon society.

★

URGES NEATER CITY—

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn today asked Mansfielders to help keep the city a little neater. The mayor pointed out that the city cleans the streets during the night and then many business places push their sidewalls sweepings into the gutters in the morning. He urged the merchants to dispose of the sweepings in some other way.

CUPID EASES PACE—

Dan Cupid did just fair in Richland county during March. Wedding licenses issued in probate court totaled 43, compared with 46 in February and 49 in March a year ago. Meanwhile, the clerk of courts reported that 40 petitions for divorce were filed last month. That compares with 34 in February, plus five petitions asking alimony. There's one consoling feature about the divorce petitions. Some of them always are dismissed by the plaintiffs.

Rites Tuesday For H. R. Wolf

Funeral services for Herman R. Wolf, 55, city employe who was killed by electric shock Saturday at the Maxwell pumping station, will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home. Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will officiate.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct services at the grave in the Mansfield cemetery.

The city building will be closed from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. tomorrow so that city employes may attend the funeral.

Acts On Bills

The Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium Building commission will meet Wednesday at 11 a. m. in the county commissioners office to approve payments of bills.

Judge Requests Survey

Chicago Man To Make Check

A specialist will come to Mansfield soon to survey Richland county's juvenile detention home requirements.

He is Hugh P. Reed, Chicago director of the mid-western office of the National Probation and Parole association.

Probate-Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer said today he had requested the survey to determine what is required in a detention home for the county.

Richland county has been without such a home since Jan. 1, resulting in difficulties for county juvenile officials.

In his reply to Judge Cramer's request, Reed said he could come here either next week or the following week for a consultation visit. No definite time has been set.

The detention home at the Salvation Army post was closed Jan. 1 after the advisory board of the Salvation Army gave the county commissioners more than six months notice.

NO ACTION

Commissioners have not taken any action on efforts to obtain a juvenile home, and said today there was nothing to report on getting one. Guy F. Stewart, chairman of the board, declined to say when the matter would be considered by the board.

Juveniles are held in the city jail's juvenile cell or in the county jail.

Runaway juveniles were held in the juvenile home when the county had one.

On other occasions juvenile officers have been able to obtain temporary homes for the children. Children 14 and under have been permitted to go to their homes in most cases and ordered to appear for hearings.

Players Name Chairmen For 'Laura'

Committee chairmen for the Community Players' production, "Laura," were announced today by E. D. Gibson, president.

Those who will serve as head of the various groups are Mrs. Robert Ross, make up; Lawrence Todd, music; W. E. Slabaugh, advertising; Rex Collins, programs; Mrs. Joseph Ellison, costumes; Mrs. Trudy Clark, properties; Miss Maureen Beal, tickets; Mrs. Richard McMullen and Miss Ann Schoenman, publicity; Walter Perl and Mrs. Bruce McGinity, advisors for set arrangements.

Mrs. McGinty, who is one of Mansfield's well known portrait artists, will do the painting of Laura.

This mystery drama will close the season for the Community Players. "Suds in Your Eye" and "Suspense" were the two other productions given during the year.

On April 26 and 27 the players will present Vera Caspary's and George Sklar's mystery in John Simpson junior high auditorium at 8:15.

Guest at Hotel Reports Theft

Miss Betty White of Laredo, Texas, told police yesterday a $60 watch was stolen from her . om at the Fairview hotel. She said the room was ransacked.

Miss White said she found the watch gone when she returned at approximately 2:30 a. m. Sunday. She said clothing from her suitcase was scattered about the room. Miss White said she left the room at 11 p. m. Saturday.

Club Plans Paper, Scrap Campaign

Members of the Jolly Home Makers 4-H club will receive assignments on pattern fitting at a meeting at the home of Joyce Mottayaw April 14.

At a recent meeting at the home of Carol Bonecutter, members planned a paper and scrap drive for a community project. Plans are also being made for painting mail boxes.

Davis Joins Discussion Of Child Entertainment

R. Y. Davis, Johnny Appleseed junior high teacher and chairman of a special committee of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, will go to Cleveland Friday for the final hearing on the study of comics, movies and radio programs.

There will be two questions discussed at this meeting—"Are Parents Unduly Concerned About the Effect of Comics, Movies and Radio Programs on Their Children?" "If the Child is Adversely Affected, what is the Remedy?"

The Cleveland meeting is the last of four planned for Ohio. The others were held at Toledo, Akron and Columbus, for the purpose of studying the effects of the three types of entertainment on children.

Davis, who is fifth vice president and radio chairman for the congress, will lead the discussion with Mrs. Keith Weigle, president; Mrs. R. C. Bickel, first vice president; Lester Dickey, fourth vice president and juvenile protection chairman; Mrs. Raymond P. Smith, motion picture and visual education chairman, and Mrs. S. J. Young, parent education chairman.

Following the general hearing at Cleveland, the committee will hold a closed session, then submit its report to the board of managers in Columbus on April 21 and 22.
